Handbook of Odor is the definitive guide to all aspects related to the study of smell and their impact on human life For the first time this handbook aligns the senso chemo analytical characterization of everyday smells encountered by mankind with the elucidation of perceptual hedonic behavioral and physiological responses of humans to such odors From birth onwards we learn to interact with our environment using our sense of smell Moreover evolutionary processes have engendered a multi faceted communication that is supported even dominated by olfaction This compilation examines the responses of humans to odors at different stages of life thereby building a foundation for a widely overseen area of research with broader ramifications for human life The expert international authors and editor align aspects concepts methodologies and perspectives from a broad range of different disciplines related to the science of smell These include chemistry physiology psychology material sciences technology but also disciplines related to linguistics culture art and design This handbook edited by an internationally renowned aroma scientist with the support of an outstanding team of over 60 authors is an authoritative reference for researchers in the field of odors both in academia and in industry and is also a useful reference
