Engineering and Mining Journal ,1884 On the Frontlines Fionnuala Ni Aolain, Dina Francesca Haynes, Naomi Cahn, 2011-11-16 Gender oppression has been a feature of war and conflict throughout human history yet until fairly recently little attention was devoted to addressing the consequences of violence and discrimination experienced by women in post conflict states Thankfully that is changing Today in a variety of post conflict settings the former Yugoslavia Afghanistan Colombia Northern Ireland international advocates for women s rights have focused bringing issues of sexual violence discrimination and exclusion into peace making processes In On the Frontlines Fionnuala Ni Aolain Dina Francesca Haynes and Naomi Cahn consider such policies in a range of cases and assess the extent to which they have had success in improving women s lives They argue that there has been too little success and that this is in part a product of a focus on schematic policies like straightforward political incorporation rather than a broader and deeper attempt to alter the cultures and societies that are at the root of much of the violence and exclusions experienced by women They contend that this broader approach would not just benefit women however Gender mainstreaming and increased gender equality has a direct correlation with state stability and functions to preclude further conflict If we are to have any success in stabilizing failing states gender needs to move to fore of our efforts With this in mind they examine the efforts of transnational organizations states and civil society in multiple jurisdictions to place gender at the forefront of all post conflict processes They offer concrete analysis and practical solutions to ensuring gender centrality in all aspects of peace making and peace enforcement
