Functional Programming, Glasgow 1991 Rogardt Heldal, Carsten K. Holst, Philip Wadler, 2012-12-06 The Glasgow functional programming group has held a workshop each summer since 1988. The entire group accompanied by a selection of colleagues from other institutions retreats to a pleasant Scottish location for a few days. Everyone speaks briefly enhancing coherence, cross fertilisation and camaraderie in our work. The proceedings of the first workshop were published as a technical report. Demand for this was large enough to encourage wider publication and subsequent proceedings have been published in the Springer Verlag Workshops in Computing series. These are the proceedings of the meeting held 12-14 August 1991 in Portree on the Isle of Skye. A preliminary proceedings was prepared in advance of the meeting. Most presentations were limited to a brief fifteen minutes outlining the essentials of their subject and referring the audience to the pre-print proceedings for details. Papers were then refereed and rewritten and you hold the final results in your hands. A number of themes emerged at this year's workshop including relational algebra and its application to hardware design, partial evaluation and program transformation, implementation techniques and strictness analysis. We were especially pleased to see applications of functional programming emerge as a theme. One of the sessions was devoted to a lively discussion of applications and was greatly enhanced by our industrial participants. The workshop was organised by Kei Davis, Cordelia Hall, Rogardt Heldal, Carsten Kehler, Holst John Hughes, John O'Donnell and Satnam Singh, all from the University of Glasgow.

School-University-Community Collaboration for Civic Education and Engagement in the Democratic Project R. Martin Reardon, Jack Leonard, 2022-05-01. The Campaign for the Civic Mission of Schools 2011 lamented the lack of high quality civic education in America's schools that leaves millions of citizens without the wherewithal to make sense of our system of government. p. 4. Preus et al 2016 cited literature to support their observation of a decline in high quality civic education and a low rate of civic engagement of young people. p. 67. Shapiro and Brown 2018 asserted that civic knowledge and public engagement is at an all time low. p. 1. Writing as a college senior, Flaherty 2020 urged educators to bravely interpret national, local and even school level incidents as chances for enhanced civic education and to discuss them with students in both formal and casual settings. p. 6. In this eighth volume in the Current Perspectives on School-University-Community Research series we feature the work of brave educators who are engaged in school-university-community collaborative educational endeavors. Authors focus on a wide range of projects oriented to civic education, write large, some that have been completed and some that are still in progress, but all authors evince the passion for civic education that underpins engagement in the democratic project.

The Social Construction of Russia's Resurgence Anne L. Clunan, 2009-06-01 Shortlisted 2010 Joseph Rothschild Prize in Nationalism and Ethnic Studies Association for the Study of Nationalities Once again it appears that Russia is marching to the forefront of the international stage Anne L. Clunan's analysis of Russia's resurgence convincingly argues that traditional security concerns historical aspirations and human agency are coalescing around a new national identity and reconfigured national interests in the post-Soviet nation Her work moves beyond balance of power and realist politics to posit a new interdisciplinary theory aspirational constructivism This groundbreaking theory draws on international relations research and social psychology Clunan argues that the need for collective self-esteem creates aspirations often based in a nation's past that directly shape its national and security interests In applying this theory to Russia she points to the nation's continuing efforts to exert influence over former Soviet satellite states and relates the desire for international status found in five broad Russian national self-images Western statist Slavophile neocommunist and nationalist to Russia's definition of its security interests with respect to Europe Eurasia and nuclear weapons Clunan's examination of how sociology social psychology and traditional international politics affect post-Soviet Russian identity and security concerns is truly cross-disciplinary A concluding chapter discusses the policy implications of aspirational constructivism for Russia and other nations and a methodological appendix lays out a framework for testing the theory
