It offers an international collaboration that highlights different perspectives on debated issues, with chapters on maternity care in the UK, United States, Australia and Ireland contributed by midwives, obstetricians, risk management experts and sociologists. The aim of this book is to illustrate the changing reality of risk management as it relates to maternity care and to highlight risk management concerns that may limit the choices available to pregnant women. Clarifies how applications of risk affect the choices pregnant women are able to exercise. Locates pregnancy risk considerations within the overall scheme of risk management. Analyzes practitioners' responses to the requirements of risk management. Presents risk management and choice from the risk manager's perspective, providing an understanding of risk as a macro concept in health care. Highlights medico-legal opinions on exercising choice, underscoring the need for accurate information and the ability to make informed decisions. Two chapters examine women's perspectives on risk labeling and the impact this has on choice: one in which the concept of safety within maternity care is discussed and one in which the views of women with defined risk factors are explored and their ability to make choices is evaluated. Two chapters written by health service risk managers discuss the differences between an inner city approach and a rural approach to the debate.
