University Community Engagement and Lifelong Learning Julia Preece, 2017-07-13 This book offers a conceptual re think of how university community engagement functions as a lifelong learning resource for communities While having a specific focus on the South African context it has important implications for other universities which are concerned with their communities and makes a compelling argument for the university as a public good in spite of current trends towards marketization and commodification of higher education The book draws on a theoretical framework of capabilities asset based community development and the adult learning concept of dialogue to propose a model whereby the boundary walls of the university become metaphorically porous so that community members feel free to interact with the university as equal members of society A historical outline of African universities is provided as well as an exploration of the evolution of terms for community engagement service learning and learning cities and an examination of the policy and practice implications for the ideological model of a porous university

Global Science's Cooperation Opportunities, Challenges, and Good Practices Moussaoui, Mohamed, 2023-07-24 Science diplomacy gives possibilities for international diplomacy and science policy to collaborate to more directly address social and global challenges such as successful diplomatic engagement international scientific coordination and policy coherence in response to the COVID 19 pandemic However most academic scientists lack policy process training networking opportunities with science policymakers and the capacity to use their expertise in the field to advance policy or diplomacy These barriers limit scientists research impact inhibit science policy relations reduce science recommendations and restrict university engagement in national and international contexts The origins of science diplomacy have yet to be closely examined and its current format does not give a clear understanding of how it concretely translates into science policy actions Global Science s Cooperation Opportunities Challenges and Good Practices provides a comprehensive overview of science diplomacy and its evolution in history and analyzes the ways in which politics science and diplomacy intertwine The book also provides a critical review of science diplomacy by exposing its limitations in addressing global challenges and by reflecting on the specific questions relating to the adaptation of the science diplomacy concept to the context of the Global South Covering key topics such as climate change foreign policy and energy consumption this premier reference source is ideal for policymakers government officials politicians industry professionals researchers academicians scholars practitioners instructors and students

Who Is an African? Roderick R. Hewitt, Chammah J. Kaunda, 2018-09-15 The subject of race and identity is a burning issue which continues to occupy the attention not only of South Africans but also the wider residents of the continent of Africa and those who are Africans in the Diaspora The outburst of xenophobic attacks against foreigners mostly of Black African origins in some communities of Kwa Zulu Natal and areas of Johannesburg during 2008 and 2015 has raised questions about the social cohesion of South African society linked to unresolved structural identity issues bequeathed by the nation s past colonial and apartheid legacy This publication argues that there is an embedded schizophrenic identity crisis within the society that requires scholarly interrogation The chapters assemble scholarly voices from different ethnic groups that examine the central research question of this study Who is an African Within the wider Southern African context identity and ethnicity politics are framing nationalist economic policies and are impacting on social cohesion within many countries Writing from different social and racial locations the authors have critically engaged with the central question and offer some important insights that can serve as a resource for all nations grappling with issues of race ethnicity identity constructed politics and social cohesion

Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities Claire Bénit-Gbaffou ,2024-02-27 Why are even progressive local authorities with the will to improve seldom able to change cities Why does it seem almost impossible to redress spatial inequalities deliver and maintain basic services elevate impoverished areas and protect the marginalised communities Why do municipalities in the Global South refuse to work with prevailing social informalities and resort instead to interventions that are known to displace and aggravate the very issues they aim to address Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities analyses these challenges in South African cities where the brief post apartheid moment opened a window for progressive city government and made research into state practices both possible and necessary In debate with other progressive moments in large cities in Brazil the USA and India the book interrogates City officials practices It considers the instruments they invent and negotiate to implement urban policies the agency they develop and the constraints they navigate in governing unequal cities This focus on actual officials practices is captured through first hand experience state ethnographies and engaged research These reveal day to day practice that question generalised explanations of state failure in complex urban societies as essential malevolence contextual weakness corruption and inefficiency It is hoped that opening the black box of the workings of state opens paths for the construction of progressive policies in contemporary cities

Places of Privilege ,2018-07-19 Places of Privilege examines dynamics of privilege and power in the construction of place in a period of the rapid social transformation of places borders and boundaries Drawing on inter disciplinary perspectives the book examines place as a site for the making and re making of privilege while considering new meanings of community and examining spaces for cultural identity and resistance Chapters point to a range of conceptual resources that can be utilised to produce critical analyses of place making As the authors point out power and privilege shape place but these dynamics are in turn shaped by the specific place based histories and social dynamics within which they are located Contributors are Lutfiye Ali Alison M Baker Paola Bilbrough Tony Birch Jora Broerse Sally Clark Josephine Cornell Yon Hsu Lou Iaquinto Karen Jackson Shose Kessi Rebecca Lyons Chris McConville Nicole Oke Amy Quayle Alexandra Ramirez Kopano Ratele Christopher C Sonn and Ram n Spaaij

The Palgrave Handbook of Media and Communication Research in Africa Bruce Mutsvairo,2018-03-22 This handbook attempts to fill the gap in empirical scholarship of media and communication research in Africa from an Africanist perspective The collection draws on expert knowledge of key media and communication scholars in Africa and the diaspora offering a counter narrative to existing Western and Eurocentric discourses of knowledge production As the decolonial turn takes centre stage across Africa this collection further rethinks media and communication research in a post colonial setting and provides empirical evidence as to why some of the methods conceptualised in Europe will not work in Africa The result is a thorough appraisal of the current threats challenges and opportunities facing the discipline on the continent The

Formation of Intellectual Capital and Its Ability to Transform Higher Education Institutions and the Knowledge Society Cardoso Espinosa, Edgar Oliver,2019-06-28 The knowledge society arises from the combination of four interdependent elements the production of knowledge through research its transmission through education its dissemination through information and communication technologies and its exploitation through innovation For this reason higher education institutions HEIs are the main component of the formation of intellectual capital because they are the key element of the knowledge society so it is necessary that they continue to be the main source of the necessary skills that allow the increase of economic competitiveness sustainability and citizen welfare within the framework of quality education and equity The Formation of Intellectual Capital and Its Ability to Transform Higher Education Institutions and the Knowledge Society is an essential research publication that provides systemic research on the formation of intellectual capital in higher education and its impact on the knowledge society Highlighting topics such as educational programs management strategy and educational studies this book is meant for educators educational technologists students researchers professionals and administrators Public Intellectuals in South Africa Chris Broodryk,2021-07-01 This edited collection gives voice to neglected public intellectuals in the arts humanities and journalism in South Africa who gave voice and presence to those who have been marginalized and silenced in South African history Edward Said described a public intellectual as someone who uses accessible language to address a designated public on matters of social and political significance The essays in Public Intellectuals in South Africa apply this interpretive prism and activist principle to a South African context and tell the stories of well known figures as well as some that have been mostly forgotten They include Magera Fuze John Dube Aggrey Klaaste Mewa Ramgobin and Koos Roets alongside marginalized figures such as Elijah Makiwane Mandisi Sindo William Pretorius and Dr Thomas Duncan Greenlees The essays capture the thoughts and opinions of these historical figures who the contributors argue are public intellectuals who spoke out against the corruption of power promoted a progressive politics that challenged the colonial project and its legacies and encouraged a sustained dissent of the political status quo Offering fascinating accounts of the life and work of these writers critics and activists across a range of historical contexts and disciplines from journalism and arts criticism to history and politics it enriches the historical record of South African public intellectual life This volume makes a significant contribution to ongoing debates about the value of research in the arts and humanities and what constitutes public intellectualism in South Africa Girmitiyas and the Global Indian Diaspora

Ashutosh Kumar,Crispin Bates,2024-05-31 Many Indians journeyed out of India to supplant the loss of slave labour in the former European plantation colonies of Mauritius South Africa Fiji and the Caribbean from the early nineteenth century onwards This book aims to highlight the careers of these migrants who served as vital agents in building the global society of the twenty first century It explores the transformative experiences of those who migrated and the memories of those who did not return after expiration of their contracts but chose instead to stay in their respective host countries It describes the many challenges they faced ageing in a society far from home the loss of their formal Indian identity after Indian independence their efforts to preserve a sense of community in the post independence societies of South Africa and the Caribbean and their adapting to the new political and social realities they faced as minorities in the countries in which their ancestors had adventurously determined to settle and live

The Biopolitics of Water Sofie Hellberg, 2018-03-28 Biopolitics refers to a form of politics concerned with administering and regulating the conditions of life at an aggregated level of populations This book provides a biopolitical perspective on water governance and its effects It draws on the work of Foucault to explore how notions of scarcity are used in strategies of governance and how such governance differentiates between different populations Furthermore the author investigates what such biopolitical regulation means for people s lifestyles and the way they understand themselves and their moral responsibilities as humans individuals and citizens The book begins by investigating the global water agenda with a particular emphasis on its focus on water for basic needs and provides different examples of hydromentalities around the world It also presents rich empirical details of one local case in South Africa By carefully exploring the water stories of water users the book provides new perspectives on the relationship between water and power Additionally it offers an innovative methodological framework through which we can study the workings of governance more generally and water governance specifically It thereby contributes to the scholarship on water governance in relation to how water governance and technologies are part of producing subjectivities notions of life and lifestyles and more specifically how the global water agenda can work so as to produce or further entrench distinctions between different lives and lifestyles Ultimately such differences between individuals and populations that are produced as an effect of water governance are assessed in relation to social sustainability

Belonging Ashwin Desai, Goolam Vahed, 2025-09-23 What does it mean to belong Across oceans and centuries this sweeping narrative shuttles between the corridors of the Colonial Office in London the contested streets of Durban and the changing power dynamics within the British Raj The first boatload of indentured Indians arrived in Natal in 1860 Thousands were to follow In haunting detail the book captures the plight of these labourers as well as the vicious onslaught faced by the merchant class for daring to outpace their colonial rivals At its core are the untold struggles of Indian South Africans as they confront the ever present threat of repatriation Sensitive to shifting political terrains the book weaves together seismic events the independence of India the coming of apartheid and the threat once more of mass expulsions with the texture of everyday life The granting of citizenship in 1961 is accompanied by mass relocations as the Group Areas Act rips communities from their roots Yet out of this despair barren townships on the edges of cities are turned into places of hope In the final chapters the fall of apartheid offers a moment of transcendence Yet it also asks what does it mean at last to belong It is a fascinating story of the global and the local of resistance and collaboration and undefeated optimism This is a book for anyone who has ever sought a place to
