historians who broke with mainstream academic positions by combining their professional activities with an explicit political partisanship or social engagement The second section focusses on the challenges historians are confronted with when entering the court room or more generally exposing their expertise to legal frameworks The third section focuses on the effects of policy driven demands as well as direct political interventions and regulations on the historical profession A fourth section looks at the challenges and opportunities related to the rise of new digital media Finally several authors offer their view on normative standards that may help to better respond to new demands and to define role models for publicly engaged historians This book aims at historians and other academics interested in public uses of history

From Hope to Action through Knowledge Ramesh Bharuthram, Larry Pokpas, 2020-10-27 Its November 2001 A university in dire straits financially bankrupt burdening a debt in excess of R100 million a disillusioned and demoralised staff complement still reeling from the trauma of retrenchments coupled with an academic project facing collapse as student numbers dwindle by a third to less than 10 000 Is there a future for such an institution described by some as a basket case with very bleak prospects of survival This was the landscape that confronted the newly appointed Vice Chancellor and Chief Executive Officer CEO of the University of the Western Cape Fast forward to December 2014 The CEO retires from office bestowing upon his successor a financially sound institution with a flourishing academic project recording unprecedented achievements enriching the lives of more than 20 000 students and widely acknowledged as a research led university This book narrates how visionary leadership with the steadfast belief that your past does not determine your future galvanised an entire organisation into believing that a better outcome was indeed achievable and the will to move forward as a collective with a redefined purpose and commitment to achieve that which was once deemed impossible

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, Democracy Disconnected Fiona Anciano, Laurence Piper, 2018-10-03 Why is dissatisfaction with local democracy endemic despite the spread of new participatory institutions This book argues that a key reason is the limited power of elected local officials especially to produce the City City Hall lacks control over key aspects of city decision making especially under conditions of economic globalisation and rapid urbanisation in the urban South Demonstrated through case studies of daily politics in Hout Bay Democracy Disconnected shows how Cape Town residents engage local rule In the absence of democratic control urban rule in the Global South becomes a complex and contingent framework of multiple and multilevel forms of urban governance FUG that involve City Hall but are not directed by it Bureaucratic governance coexists alongside market developmental and informal forms of governance This disconnect of democracy from urban governance segregates people spatially socially but also politically Thus while the residents of Hout Bay may live next to each other they do not live with each other This book will be a valuable resource for students on programmes such as urban studies political science sociology development studies and political geography
