sweep you off your feet This is the first book in an epic new series that will pull you into a world of ancient weapons deadly alliances and the kind of love that could change the course of history Fiction, Intuition, & Creativity Angela Hague,2003 This is a search for the origins of fiction and for an understanding of how these origins influence the finished work of art The text examines the connection between the creative process and fictional form by discussing intuitive consciousness The Reading of Silence Patricia Oudek Laurence,1991 This is a study of Virginia Woolf s lifelong preoccupation with silence and the barrier between the sayable and the unsayable Using a wide range of thinkers from Kierkegaard to Kristeva and Derrida Laurence demonstrates convincingly that Woolf was the first modern woman novelist to practice silence in her writing and that in so doing she created a new language of the mind and changed the metaphor of silence from one of absence or oppression to one of presence and strength It suggests new directions for Woolf criticism

A Theology of Nonsense Josephine Gabelman,2017-10-26 There is within all theological utterances something of the ridiculous perhaps more so in Christianity given its proclivity for the paradoxical and the childlike Few theologians are willing to discuss how consent to the Christian doctrine often requires a faith that goes beyond reason There seems to be a fear that the association of theology with the absurd will give fuel to the sceptic s refrain You can t seriously believe in all that nonsense Josephine Gabelman considers the legitimacy of the sceptic s objection and explores the possibility that an idea can be contrary to rationality and also true and meaningful using the systematic analysis of central stylistic features of literary non sense such as Lewis Carroll s Alice stories Gabelman sets up a nonsense theology by considering the practical and evangelical ramifications of associating Christian faith with nonsense literature and conversely the value of relating theological principles to the study of literary nonsense Ultimately Gabelman says faith is always a risk and a strictly rational apologetic misrepresents the nature of Christian truth Deserted Island Dilemma Pasquale De Marco,2025-04-13

Virginia Woolf John Batchelor, 1991-02-22 Virginia Woolf 1882-941 is one of the most interesting writers of our century. In this introductory book John Batchelor tells the story of her life and writing career highlighting the important aspects of Woolf's temperament her passion her learning her acute intelligence her lesbianism her self absorption. He discusses the works devoting separate chapters to the five major novels Jacob's Room with its highly ironic celebration of masculinity Mrs Dalloway with its odd time structures and pointed observation of 1920s London society To the Lighthouse which can be read as an elegy for Woolf's own family as well as a great work of modernism The Waves extending the narrative methods of its predecessors and Between the Acts Woolf's complex satire of the Condition of England novel. In addition Professor Batchelor looks at Woolf's uneasy relation to modernism and the question of her feminism. This book equipped with a chronology and guide to recommended further reading is an ideal companion for students and new readers of Woolf. Virginia Woolf

Michael Rosenthal, 2023-07-21 First published in 1979 Virginia Woolf is an original critical study of where the author considers Virginia Woolf's non-fiction as well as fiction exploring the different ways Woolf sought to embody her artistic vision throughout her remarkable literary career. The book establishes both the intellectual and social setting of the Bloomsbury world in which she lived and includes detailed discussions of all her work Woolf's unending quest to express as she says the exact shapes my brain holds provides us with a new method of appreciating her total achievement as a writer.
