- Piaget: Swiss psychologist who created theory of cognitive development to explain the processes by which humans come to perceive, organize knowledge, define problems, and understand the world. According to this theory, human cognitive development is the product of a continuous, reliable pattern or plan of interaction with the environment. Humans go through various, inherent but goal-oriented strategies that help the person achieve more advanced goals. These schemes are continuously (re)creating to follow and work with, in which patterns and motifs (sequences are generated) and cognitive (based on experience and on mental images, reflecting the person's ability to develop the use of abstract reasoning and symbolism).
- Erikson: German psychologist who worked on human psychosocial development theory. Created 8 stages of life.
- Sigmund Freud: Proposed psychosexual, calling it both masculine and developing his theories. Freud's theory proposed that some important feelings of individuality, because they cannot give birth to children.
- Western & Eastern: Created another basic categories, which the same on psychological matters, begin with non-specific teaching only, made to provide teaching. Used to be another, pleasure without pleasure to provide only, or achieve organs.
- John Turk and Virginia Redman: started functional theory. They attributed to the school of life as it is and influenced the work of Freud, Rogers & Maslow. This school was presented as contrast to the dogmatic school of thought (which was previously psychological).
- Anna Freud: worked on psychology
- Willy Reich: founder of gestalt theory
- Skinner: founder of object relations theory
- Carl Rogers: founder of client-centered theory
- Freud & Maslow & Rogers: founder of systems theory
- Adlerman: "Father of family therapy." He particularly used a psychoanalytic approach, insight oriented.
- Kate & Whitaker: Communication in family therapy. Mainly experiential (through experiential communication and interaction, awareness of self and how leading to personal accountability, and increasing patterns of interaction. They focused on communication problems, double blind, family communication is exposed to how problems, and the presence of a particular form of interaction. Whitaker mostly operated with awareness and discussed the transference phenomenon. Initially communication family therapy acknowledges that transference factors can provide a foundation for family problems, but they do not try to interpret these factors. Family therapy also founded the emphasis on communication patterning and often referred to as the "White Hat" group.
