Contingency-based self-management makes students responsible for managing their own behavior and rewards them for appropriate behavior.

Curriculum-based assessment tells the teacher how the student is performing on the current curriculum under the current teaching conditions and is the most relevant.

Criterion-referenced tests are designed to measure how well a person has learned or mastered a well-defined and specific body of knowledge, such as whole-number computations.

Standardized assessments are formal tests that provide percentiles, stanine scores, and standard scores.

Satiation is decreasing or eliminating an unacceptable behavior as a result of continued and increased reinforcement of the behavior.

Manipulating the antecedent stimulus means taking away the cause of the problem to change the behavior.

In a full-inclusion model, the special education teacher works with the general education teacher in the general education classroom.
