Watts,Franz Andres Morrissey,2019-01-31 The relationship between language and music has much in common rhythm structure sound metaphor Exploring the phenomena of song and performance this book presents a sociolinguistic model for analysing them Based on ethnomusicologist John Blacking s contention that any song performed communally is a folk song regardless of its generic origins it argues that folk song to a far greater extent than other song genres displays communal or inclusive types of performance The defining feature of folk song as a multi modal instantiation of music and language is its participatory nature making it ideal for sociolinguistic analysis In this sense a folk song is the product of specific types of developing social interaction whose major purpose is the construction of a temporally and locally based community Through repeated instantiations this can lead to disparate communities of practice which over time develop sociocultural registers and a communal stance towards aspects of meaningful events in everyday lives that become typical of a discourse community
