Married Life in the Middle Ages, 900-1300 Elisabeth van Houts, 2019-01-31 Married Life in the Middle Ages 900 1300 contains an analysis of the experience of married life by men and women in Christian medieval Europe c 900 1300 The study focusses on the social and emotional life of the married couple rather than on the institutional history of marriage breaking it into three parts Getting Married the process of getting married and wedding celebrations Married Life the married life of lay couples and clergy their sexuality and any remarriage and Alternative Living which explores concubinage and polygyny as well as the single life in contrast to monogamous sexual unions In this volume van Houts deals with four central themes First the tension between patriarchal family strategies and the individual family member's freedom of choice to marry and if so to what partner second the role played by the married priesthood in their quest to have individual agency and self determination accepted in their own lives in the face of the growing imposition of clerical celibacy third the role played by women in helping society accept some degree of gender equality and self determination to marry and in shaping the norms for married life incorporating these principles fourth the role played by emotion in the establishment of marriage and in married life at a time when sexual and spiritual love feature prominently in medieval literature     Directory of Alumni University of Nebraska (Lincoln campus),1928     Jane's Urban Transport Systems Mary Webb,Jackie Clarke,2007 Surveys the systems manufacturers and consultants within the global market City by city you can analyse and review both current operations and future plans Provides traffic statistics fleet lists and numbers in service Provides contact details and background of approx 1 500 manufacturers     Sexual Interaction in Digital Contexts: Opportunities and Risks for Sexual Health Nicole Krämer,Matthias Brand,Nicola Döring,Tillmann H. Department of State,1966     Legalism Georgy Kantor,Tom Lambert,Hannah Skoda,2017-12-08 In this volume ownership is defined as the simple fact of being able to describe something as mine or yours and property is distinguished as the discursive field which allows the articulation of attendant rights relationships and obligations Property is often articulated through legalism as a way of thinking that appeals to rules and to generalizing concepts as a way of understanding responding to and managing the world around one An Aristotelian perspective suggests that ownership is the natural state of things and a prerequisite of a true sense of self An alternative perspective from legal theory puts law at the heart of the origins of property However both these points of view are problematic in a wider context the latter because it rests heavily on Roman law Anthropological and historical studies enable us to interrogate these assumptions The articles here ranging from Roman provinces to modern day piracy in Somalia address questions such as How are legal property regimes intertwined with economic moral ethical and political prerogatives How far do the assumptions of the western philosophical tradition explain property and ownership in other societies Is the bundle of rights a useful way to think about property How does legalism negotiate property relationships and interests between communities and individuals How does the legalism of property respond to the temporalities and materialities of the objects owned How are property regimes managed by states and what kinds of conflicts are thus generated Property and ownership cannot be reduced to natural rights nor do they straightforwardly reflect power relations the rules through which property is articulated tend to be conceptually subtle As the fourth volume in the Legalism series this collection draws on common themes that run throughout the first three volumes Legalism Anthropology and History Legalism Community and Justice and Legalism Rules and Categories consolidating them in a framework that suggests a new approach to legal concepts     Business India ,2010-04     Gravity ,     Cross Reference Directory ,1981     Transcript of Enrollment Books
