Harris, Jay H. Buckley, 2012-11-21 In life and in death fame and glory eluded Zebulon Montgomery Pike 1779 1813 The ambitious young military officer and explorer best known for a mountain peak that he neither scaled nor named was destined to live in the shadows of more famous contemporaries explorers Meriwether Lewis and William Clark This collection of thought provoking essays rescues Pike from his undeserved obscurity It does so by providing a nuanced assessment of Pike and his actions within the larger context of American imperial ambition in the time of Jefferson Pike s accomplishments as an explorer and mapmaker and as a soldier during the War of 1812 has been tainted by his alleged connection to Aaron Burr s conspiracy to separate the trans Appalachian region from the United States For two hundred years historians have debated whether Pike was an explorer or a spy whether he knew about the Burr Conspiracy or was just a loyal foot soldier This book moves beyond that controversy to offer new scholarly perspectives on Pike s career The essayists all prominent historians of the American West examine Pike s expeditions and writings which provided an image of the Southwest that would shape American culture for decades John Logan Allen explores Pike s contributions to science and cartography James P Ronda and Leo E Oliva address his relationships with Native peoples and Spanish officials Jay H Buckley chronicles Pike s life and compares Pike to other Jeffersonian explorers Jared Orsi discusses the impact of his expeditions on the environment and William E Foley examines his role in Burr s conspiracy Together the essays assess Pike s accomplishments and shortcomings as an explorer soldier empire builder and family man Pike s 1810 journals and maps gave Americans an important glimpse of the headwaters of the Mississippi and the southwestern borderlands and his account of the opportunities for trade between the Mississippi Valley and New Mexico offered a blueprint for the Santa Fe Trail This volume is the first in more than a generation to offer new scholarly perspectives on the career of an overlooked figure in the opening of the American West

African American Women Confront the West, 1600-2000 Quintard Taylor, Shirley Ann Wilson Moore, 2008-08-01 Reconstructs the history of black women's participation in western settlement A stellar collection of essays by talented authors who explore fascinating topics Journal of American Ethnic History African American Women Confront the West 1600 2000 is the first major historical anthology on the topic The editors argue that African American women in the West played active though sometimes unacknowledged roles in shaping the political ideological and social currents that have influenced the United States over the past three centuries Contributors to this volume explore African American women's life experiences in the West their influences on the experiences of the region's diverse peoples and their legacy in rural and urban communities from Montana to Texas and from California to Kansas The essayists explore what it has meant to be an African American woman from the era of Spanish colonial rule in eighteenth century New Mexico to the black power era of the 1960s and 1970s

Birthing a Nation Susan J. Rosowski, 1999-01-01 Birthing a Nation is about national identity and the American West If it is a truism that facing west was the American male version of invoking the Muse what happened if you were female Most past interpretations of western American literature have echoed Frederick Jackson Turner's frontier hypothesis emphasizing the conflict of wilderness and civilization the hero of rugged individualism the act of returning to origins and reemerging as the reborn American Adam In this reading of western American women writers who responded to the challenge to give birth to a nation Susan J Rosowski proposes an alternative more hopeful affirmation of our cultural history and perhaps our cultural destiny Rosowski begins by tracing the birth metaphor through three and a half centuries of American letters She reexamines the premises underlying the telling of the literary West and posits a female model of creativity at the genesis of American literature She follows four authors on a multigenerational journey beginning with Margaret Fuller in 1843 moving on a generation later to Willa Cather advancing to Jean Stafford and ending with Marilynne Robinson In her reading of these writers who most directly and deeply believed in literature as a serious and noble form of art and who wrote to influence how the country perceived itself Rosowski contributes to the ongoing process of remapping the literary landscape
