Discipline Problems Tadashi Dozono, 2024-05-07 Angel a Black tenth grader at a New York City public school self identifies as a nerd and likes to learn But she s troubled that her history classes leave out events like the genocide and dispossession of Indigenous people in the Americas presenting a sugar coated image of the United States that is at odds with her everyday experience The history I learned in school is simpler she says The world I live in is a lot more complex Angel like every student interviewed in Discipline Problems has been identified by teachers as a troublemaker a student whose behavior disrupts classroom norms and interferes with instruction But her critiques of the curriculum she s taught speak to her curiosity and insight crucial foundations for understanding history Like many students who have been marginalized by systemic racism in American schools she exposes the shortcomings of her classrooms academic environments by challenging both the content and the methods of her education All too often these challenges are framed as troublemaking and the students are disciplined for acting out instead of being rewarded for their intellectual engagement Tadashi Dozono a professor of education and former high school social studies teacher takes seriously the often overlooked critiques that students of color who get labeled as troublemakers direct toward their high school history curriculum He reinterprets troublemaking usually cast as a behavioral deficit as an intellectual asset and form of reasoning that challenges the disciplining reason of classrooms where whiteness is valued over the histories and knowledge of people of color Dozono shows how what are traditionally framed as discipline problems can be seen through a different lens as responses to educational practices that marginalize non white students Discipline Problems reveals how students of color seek out alternate avenues for understanding their world and imagines a pedagogy that champions the curiosity intellect and knowledge of marginalized learners

Hoffman,2021-03-02 Society and democracy are ever threatened by the fall of fact Rigorous analysis of facts the hard boundary between truth and opinion and fidelity to reputable sources of factual information are all in alarming decline A 2018 report published by the RAND Corporation labeled this problem truth decay and Andrew J Hoffman lays the challenge of fixing it at the door of the academy But as he points out academia is prevented from carrying this out due to its own existential crisis a crisis of relevance Scholarship rarely moves very far beyond the walls of the academy and is certainly not accessing the primarily civic spaces it needs to reach in order to mitigate truth corruption In this brief but compelling book Hoffman draws upon existing literature and personal experience to bring attention to the problem of academic insularity where it comes from and where if left to grow unchecked it will go and argues for the emergence of a more publicly and politically engaged scholar This book is a call to make that path toward public engagement more acceptable and legitimate for those who do it to enlarge the tent to be inclusive of multiple ways that one enacts the role of academic scholar in today s world Anchoring Innovation Districts Costas Spirou,2021-05-18 As universities transform cities with their innovation districts what works in these new public private partnerships In recent years the successful revitalization of urban areas has turned them into magnets for those looking for opportunities in a fast paced and rapidly unfolding technology based economy After the economic crisis of 2008 many colleges and universities attempted to generate alternative sources of revenue and pursued aggressive economic development strategies Some universities even began to actively invest resources in the rebirth and rebranding of urban cores encouraging the development of entrepreneurial technology oriented innovation districts In Anchoring Innovation Districts Costas Spirou explains that these districts have emerged as geographic clusters of technology startups business incubators and accelerators They aim to take advantage of intellectual capital commercialize knowledge and give their associated institutions a way to enter into the market The outcome of robust private public partnerships and complex real estate strategies these initiatives also complement other urban revitalization efforts and reshape the socioeconomic makeup of city neighborhoods Presenting readers with six case studies that explore the role of technological innovation Spirou argues that higher education anchored innovation districts can make significant contributions to economic expansion job growth and the institutions that guide their development He also points out that these districts nonetheless raise questions about the impact of the Ivory Tower on the urban environment Spirou focuses on Midtown Atlanta s Tech Square Georgia Tech Cambridge s Kendall Square MIT Philadelphia s University City the University of Pennsylvania Drexel University and the University of the Sciences the PHX Core Arizona State University and the role that the University of West Florida in Pensacola and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga play in developing innovation ecosystems Anchoring Innovation Districts provides unique insight into the transformative opportunities offered and the challenges faced by higher education in the built environment University administrators board members policy makers and scholars will find Spirou s analysis thought provoking and helpful
