
Chapter 1

The Demand for Audit and Other Assurance Services

■ Concept Checks

P. 8

1. To do an audit, there must be information in a verifiable form and some standards (criteria) by which the auditor can evaluate the information. Determining the degree of correspondence between information and established criteria is determining whether a given set of information is in accordance with the established criteria. For an audit of a company's financial statements the criteria are U.S. generally accepted accounting principles or International Financial Reporting Standards.
2. The four primary causes of information risk are remoteness of information, biases and motives of the provider, voluminous data, and the existence of complex exchange transactions.
The three main ways to reduce information risk are:
 1. User verifies the information.
 2. User shares the information risk with management.
 3. Audited financial statements are provided.

P. 16

1. The three main types of audits are operational audits, compliance audits, and financial statement audits. The table below summarizes the purposes and nature of each type of audit.

	OPERATIONAL AUDITS	COMPLIANCE AUDITS	AUDITS OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
PURPOSE	To evaluate whether operating procedures are efficient and effective	To determine whether the client is following specific procedures set by a higher authority	To determine whether the overall financial statements are presented in accordance with specified criteria (usually GAAP)

Auditing and Assurance Services David N. Ricchiute, 2003. Auditing and assurance service education has undergone dramatic change in at least three ways: 1. An awakening that practitioners have a comparative advantage in offering professional services that transcend the boundaries of financial statements; 2. An understanding that client strategies affect engagement risk; and 3. A transition away from first person delivery by classroom instructors only and toward third person discovery by students both within and outside of the classroom. Each has influenced the seventh edition. To transcend the boundaries of financial statements, Auditing and Assurance Services exposes students both to the demand for and the supply of the profession's flagship service: financial statement audits, and to the nature of the value added assurance services decision makers demand in the information age. Essentials of Auditing and Assurance Services Alvin A. Arens, Randal J. Elder, Mark S. Beasley, Gregory J. Jenkins, 2003. Modern Auditing William C. Boynton, Raymond N. Johnson, 2005-08-19. Known in the academic market for its clear writing style and accessibility, this extensive revision focuses on auditor decision making and the auditor's role in providing assurance about the integrity of the financial reporting system. This is particularly important in light of the recent events involving WorldCom, Enron, Xerox, Aldelphia, Tyco, Waste Management, and other recent incidents that have questioned the quality of work in the auditing profession. Intended for a junior or senior level course in auditing or assurance services taught at most four year schools. Solutions Manual [to Accompany] Auditing and Assurance Services Alvin A.
