Lessons for the Social Studies Classroom M. Lazarus, S. Cohen, K. Lambert, R. E, 2013-03-12 The idea for this book came while I was observing a student teacher and a master teacher I realized that most student teachers while in training do not have the opportunity to think creatively about their lessons I also noticed that teachers new to the field of teaching suffer the same fate they are too busy trying to survive the day and are not sure how to plan and organize their teaching Lesson plans are one of the most important tools for a teacher and more important for the novice teacher I believe that during student teaching or during their undergraduate years if students were equipped with this book their first year teaching will not look so first year Imagine an undergraduate class filled with soon to be Social Studies teachers discussing these selected lesson plans improving upon them and making them their own Most first year teachers over teach or under teach and both types still miss the marks on the standardized test These lesson plans will give the new teacher a place to begin

Bring History and Civics to Life Karalee Wong

Nakatsuka,Laurel Aguilar-Kirchhoff,2022-09-13 This user friendly guide will empower and equip teachers to take a fun interactive approach to using technology to teach history and civics For years history and civics have been put on the back burner as schools focus on subjects like math science and English language arts Although all U S states have standards for the teaching of history there s a lack of consistency when it comes to teaching civics Today we see evidence of declining levels of civic engagement which is sadly reinforced as our educational institutions fail to prioritize history and civics education while at the same time they often blame students for their lack of knowledge Amid this backdrop how can educators better prepare their students to become engaged informed and empathetic citizens One way is by harnessing the power of digital learning to make history come alive for students establishing a climate and culture that encourages students to be effective collaborators and lifelong learners who care about and contribute to society With this book two dynamic award winning educators draw clear connections between history civics community and technology in meaningful and actionable ways to deepen students understanding of democratic processes and civic engagement Using edtech and instructional design as entry points the book highlights pedagogically sound practices to build critical thinking skills and offers classroom examples from a wide range of educators to show how to implement these strategies in the classroom The book Illustrates how to use educational technology as a means to inspire and enable students to become empathetic informed citizens Emphasizes historiography and critical thinking skills across the curriculum and broader community Demonstrates how to integrate digital learning tools and strategies across history curriculum Provides guidance on amplifying student voice and inspiring student civic engagement with students as knowledge constructors and global citizens Prioritizes equity in learning by highlighting accessibility features of educational technology tools and implementation strategies to benefit all learners In these pages you ll discover how to use educational technology to help students recognize themselves in history and experience the world and learn in ways that only technology allows Audience Grades 4 12 history social science and civics teachers The American Dream for Students of Color Gretchen Givens Generett, Amy M. Olson, 2021-03-24 In The American Dream for Students of Color the tenets of the American Dream as a merit narrative enacted in schools are examined to better understand how beliefs about talent hard work and perseverance support the status quo rather than critical analyze barriers to educational success for students of color and students from a poverty context Using narrative methodologies this book explores the connections and consistencies within and between their personal narratives and the narratives of school youth and educators that work with them Based on analysis of these shared stories the authors argue for the importance of moving from individualized success stories that reify hard work and perseverance to collective communal stories that serve to break down myths of meritocracy critically examine inequities and move educational advocates forward in authentic audacious hopeful ways
