Engineering Systems Olivier L. De Weck,Daniel Roos,Christopher L. Magee,2011 An overview of engineering systems that describes the new challenges posed for twenty first century engineers by today s highly complex sociotechnical systems Engineering for much of the twentieth century was mainly about artifacts and inventions Now it s increasingly about complex systems As the airplane taxis to the gate you access the Internet and check email with your PDA linking the communication and transportation systems At home you recharge your plug in hybrid vehicle linking transportation to the electricity grid Today s large scale highly complex sociotechnical systems converge interact and depend on each other in ways engineers of old could barely have imagined As scale scope and complexity increase engineers consider technical and social issues together in a highly integrated way as they design flexible adaptable robust systems that can be easily modified and reconfigured to satisfy changing requirements and new technological opportunities Engineering Systems offers a comprehensive examination of such systems and the associated emerging field of study Through scholarly discussion concrete examples and history the authors consider the engineer s changing role new ways to model and analyze these systems the impacts on engineering education and the future challenges of meeting human needs through the technologically enabled systems of today and tomorrow

Hajer,1995-12-14 Dr Hajer s path breaking study opens the way for a better understanding of the environmental conflict showing how language can be seen to shape our view of what environmental politics is really about and how those perceptions can differ between countries The author identifies the emergence and increasing political importance of ecological modernization as a new concept in the language of environmental politics This concept which has come to replace the antagonistic debates of the 1970s stresses the opportunities of environmental policy for modernizing the economy and stimulating the technological innovation Combining abstract social theory with detailed empirical analysis Martin Hajer illustrates the social and political dynamics of ecological modernization in a detailed analysis of the acid rain controversies in Great Britain and the Netherlands He concludes by reflecting on the institutional challenge of the environmental politics in the years to come
