Television, Nation, and Culture in Indonesia Philip Kitley, 2014-07-31 The culture of television in Indonesia began with its establishment in 1962 as a public broadcasting service. From that time through the deregulation of television broadcasting in 1990 and the establishment of commercial channels, television can be understood, Philip Kitley argues, as a part of the New Order's national culture project designed to legitimate an idealized Indonesian national cultural identity. But Professor Kitley suggests that it also has become a site for the contestation of elements of the New Order's cultural policies. Based on his studies, he further speculates on the increasingly significant role that television is destined to play as a site of cultural and political struggle.

Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1994-07 The Report: Indonesia 2019 Oliver Cornock, The Indonesian economy had a strong year in 2018 with growth of 5.2% marking the fastest pace in half a decade. This came on the back of robust domestic consumption, increased foreign investment and continuing efforts to reform policy and simplify investment procedures, and despite challenges including a falling rupiah, a trade imbalance and global political issues.

Handbook of Climate Services Walter Leal Filho, Daniela Jacob, 2020-01-17 This book explores climate services including projections, descriptive information, analyses, assessments, and an overview of current trends. Due to the pressures now being put on the world's climate, it is vital to gather and share reliable climate observation and projection data, which may be tailored for use by different groups. In other words, it is essential to offer climate services. But despite the growth in the use of these services, there are very few specialist publications on this topic. This book addresses that need. Apart from presenting studies and the results of research projects, the book also offers an overview of the wide range of means available for providing and using climate services. In addition, it features case studies that provide illustrative and inspiring examples of how climate services can be optimally deployed.

Guidance on spatial technologies for disaster risk management in aquaculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-01-24 This new guide describes the application of spatial technology to improve disaster risk management (DRM) within the aquaculture sector. DRM requires interrelated actions and activities to ensure early warning, prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery for a wide range of natural, technological, and complex disasters that can impact aquaculture operations and livelihoods. Spatial technology refers to systems and tools that acquire, manage, and analyse data that have geographic context. Some of the technologies include satellite remote sensing, aerial surveys, global positioning systems, geographic information systems, information and communication technology, and other data-gathering sensors used for instance in meteorology. Spatial technology supports activities across all phases of the DRM cycle, and its rapid development provides enhanced opportunities to support DRM within the aquaculture sector. This guide is organized in two parts. Part one is the guidance; it is the main body of the document and describes the processes and steps for the use of spatial technology within DRM for aquaculture Part two includes selected country case studies from Bangladesh the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean and Indonesia to illustrate the application of spatial technology in DRM for aquaculture at the national level within local contexts Best practices at the farm and area management levels supported by spatial technology reduce volatility and risks and thus facilitate investment Countries that would like aquaculture to grow sustainably and reliably are encouraged to use this guide in order to support spatial planning approaches and protect responsible investors A separate summary version accompanies this publication The Report: Indonesia 2017 Oxford Business Group,2016-11-10 Although Chinese and global demand low commodity prices and rising wages will continue to challenge trade growth in 2016 Indonesia remains on a positive trajectory Rising domestic demand increasing liberalization measures improvements to the investment climate and a shift towards value added production will bolster both exports and investment At the same time new trade agreements with the world s largest economies look set to drive long term trade expansion Prudent government policy an ambitious reform agenda and rising recognition of the role of the private sector should help to keep investment and trade stable in 2016 and despite exports and growth have dipped in recent years the country is well positioned to make the crucible transformation from a consumption to investment based economy The Report: Indonesia 2018 Oliver Cornock,2018 In 2018 the Indonesian economy recorded a growth rate of 5.2% the highest in five years This was in spite of a slump in the rupiah and a trade imbalance and took place against a backdrop of rising US interest rates and deteriorating trade relations between the world s two biggest economies The country s emphasis on industrialisation and infrastructure development is laying the foundations for continued economic growth Moreover the archipelago s growing middle class population geographical position and human capital development agenda alongside progress in free trade agreements make it a strong contender on the global economic stage The country holds considerable potential for developing entrepreneurial and creative prowess already being home to four unicorn startups Investors have continued to look beyond traditional destinations with emerging cities like Surabaya and Palembang showing strong possibilities for economic growth Although the outcome of the April 2019 national election will determine the course of further infrastructure development and tax reforms the future looks promising with predictions of continued growth accompanied by stable inflation A Report on the Lembaga Ilmu Pengetahuan Indonesia - National Academy of Sciences, USA, Workshop on Food Held at Djakarta, Indonesia, May - 1968 Lembaga Ilmu Pengetahuan Indonesia,1968 The Land Resources of Indonesia ,1990 A Report on the Lembaga Ilmu Pengetahuan Indonesia-National Academy of Sciences, USA, Workshop on Food ,1968 The Report: Indonesia 2008 ,2008 Indonesia's Agriculture Robert Michael McConnell,1962 Crop Prospects and Food Situation No.2, July 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2020-07-01 FAO assesses that globally 44 countries of which 34 are in Africa continue to be in need of external assistance for food The effects of the COVID 19 pandemic are causing wide ranging and severe negative impacts on food security particularly through the loss of income Conflicts and weather shocks remain critical factors that underpin the current high levels of severe food insecurity Situation and Outlook Report ,1986
