Features a foreword from the National Chairman of the Federation of Small Businesses. Business Fundamentals for Engineering Managers C.M. Chang, 2014-08-31 Engineering managers and professionals make a long and lasting impact in the industry by regularly developing technology-based projects as related to new product development, new service innovation or efficiency-centered process improvement or both to create strategic differentiation and operational excellence for their employers. They need certain business fundamentals that enable them to make decisions based on both technology and business perspectives leading to new or improved product or service offerings which are technically feasible, economically viable, marketplace acceptable and customer enlightening. This book consists of three sets of business fundamentals. The chapter Cost Accounting and Control discusses service and product costing, activity-based costing to define overhead expenses and risk analysis and cost estimation under uncertainty. The chapter Financial Accounting and Analysis delineates the key financial statements, financial analyses, balanced scorecard, ratio analysis and capital asset valuation including operations, opportunities and acquisition and mergers. The chapter Marketing Management reviews marketing functions, marketing forecasting, marketing segmentation, customers and other factors affecting marketing in making value-adding contributions. The new business vocabulary and useful analysis tools presented will enable engineering managers to become more effective when interacting with senior management and to prepare themselves for assuming higher-level corporate responsibilities. Integrated Performance Management Kurt Verweire, Lutgart Berghe, 2004-12-23 Linking various disciplines and management functions, Integrated Performance Management provides the reader with a concrete framework to manage organizations successfully. The authors do not isolate a single strategy to manage performance. Instead the book focuses on a range of strategies providing the reader with an introduction to each one. The concepts under analysis were developed through intense dialogue with business managers. While maintaining academic rigour, Integrated Performance Management presents ideas that students will find relevant outside of the classroom. Postgraduate and MBA students in a range of areas including strategy, accounting, finance, operations management, marketing, leadership and human resource management will find this book useful.

Management Approach for Resource-Productive Operations Markus Hammer, 2018-07-10. Markus Hammer investigates a time based and analytics supported operations management approach. He explores five perspectives: 1. the needs of industry in particular manufacturing in process industries; 2. the impact of digitization with focus on Big Data and analytics; 3. the management of operations through time based performance metrics; 4. how operations improvement methods and advanced process control help achieve resource productive operations; and 5. learning from practice based on two empirical case studies. The author conceives, explains and tests an implementation methodology. The final case study proves that the developed implementation methodology works in practice.

The Global Semiconductor Industry Tjark Wilke, 2000-09-05. Inhaltsangabe Abstract The world economy has undergone enormous changes since the late 1980s. The trend of globalisation has more and more integrated societies and linked continents with one another. The result has been the development of free trade areas such as NAFTA (North American Free Trade Area), the EU customs union and emerging markets in Asia. Countries had to cope with this development of a near free market economy and higher competition. Governments introduced new laws and regulations and great reforms and adjustments had to be made. The effects of the above led to great impacts on general business and the entire world economy. Companies started to enter new markets. To link all its facilities and office buildings and factories, the Intranet was established. With such an efficient LAN network, all the offices of a worldwide operating organization were linked with the central computer system of the company's headquarters and data and information was easily accessible. At the same time, PC users discovered the Internet, leading to a worldwide revolution and to the so called Information Age. The Internet has experienced tremendous growth during the last few years in the western world and companies started to introduce their own web sites on the Internet. Basically everyone had access to these company sites and firms started to advertise themselves and to offer their products and services online and developed new marketing concepts in the e-commerce business. At the same time, the telecommunication industry was booming. Online providers and mobile telecommunications companies experienced fast and significant growth due to the World Wide Web deregulation and lower prices. The New Economy was born and companies came into existence like Yahoo and Amazon.com and so many more, creating millions of new high tech jobs especially in the United States and later on also in Europe. Demand for personal computers and servers have increased dramatically. The hardware needed had to be provided, which created another boom in the industry. Chipmakers like Intel and AMD became successful global players and new technologies were introduced at an ever faster speed. At the same time, the global economy brought up new start up companies onto the market which are producing other important components of computers like modems and video and networking cards and high speed cables Software companies introduced new programs needed creating new high income
