Wced Exemplar Papers:

Caught in the Act Cyril Julie, Lorna Holtman, Charles R. Smith, 2019-12-11 The research reported in Caught in the Act draws together the insights gained from a continuous professional development initiative for high school mathematics teachers teaching in low socio economic status and socially challenged environments in South Africa The chapters show the possibilities for enhancing achievement in school mathematics if a strength based approach is adopted to develop teaching with teachers and when their concerns are taken seriously The book demonstrates that the ecological relevance fitness for the context in which teachers are teaching of the goods developed and distributed by initiatives should be a major consideration to offer hope for sustainable implementation to improve school mathematics education The book is of interest to mathematics teachers school leaders mathematics curriculum advisors policy makers and researchers

Evaluation of the Built Environment for Sustainability Vincenzo Bentivegna, P.S. Brandon, Patrizia Lombardi, 2003-09-02 Sustainability in the built environment is a major issue facing policy makers planners developers and designers in the UK Europe and worldwide The measuring of buildings and cities for sustainability becomes increasingly important as pressure for green sustainable development translates into policy and legislation The problems of such measurement and evaluation are presented by the authors in contributions which move from the general to the particular e g from a general framework for an environmentally sustainable form of urban development to a specific input output model application to environmental problems The book is divided into three parts the first covers city models and sustainable systems research programmes environmental policies green corporations and collaborative strategies to make urban development more sustainable part two discusses the problems of evaluating the built environment in planning and construction covering economic and environmental methods and construction development and regeneration processes part three illustrates a number of applications using different approaches and techniques and referring to a range of environmental aspects of the natural and built environment from maintaining historic buildings to transport management and air pollution monitoring

Reuse of Materials and Byproducts in Construction Alan Richardson, 2013-09-24 The construction industry is the largest single waste producing industry in the UK Ensuring a supply chain of recycled materials affords many potential gains achieved through reducing the material volume transported to already over burdened landfill sites possible cost reductions to the contractor client when considering the landfill tax saved and the potential for lower cost material replacements a reduction in the environmental impact of quarrying and the saving of depleting natural material resources Reuse of Materials and Byproducts in Construction Waste Minimization and Recycling addresses use of waste and by products in the construction industry An over view of new green design guides to encourage best practice will be examined and current legislation that channels on site practices such as site waste management plans Fundamental individual construction materials are discussed and the process of reforming by products and waste products into new construction materials is investigated examining the material performance energy required to convert waste into new products and viability of recycling The main range of constructional materials will be examined Aimed at postgraduate students lecturers and researchers in construction and civil engineering the book will also be of interest to professional design practices Mimar.ist Sayı 41 Mimarlar Odası İstanbul Büyükkent Şubesi, Mimar ist 41 Say s
