George Hewitt, 2013-03-27 The 2008 Georgian Russian war focused the world's attention on the Caucasus South Ossetia and Abkhazia had been de facto independent since the early 1990s However Russia's granting of recognition on 26 August 2008 changed regional dynamics The Caucasus is one of the most ethnically diverse areas on earth and the conflicts examined here present their own complexities This book sets the issues in their historical and political contexts and discusses potential future problems This volume is distinguished from others devoted to the same themes by the extensive use the author a Georgian specialist makes of Georgian sources inaccessible to most commentators His translated citations thus cast a unique and revealing light on the interethnic relations that have fuelled these conflicts Georgian Internally Displaced People Hazar Ege Gürsoy Erdenay, 2025-02-27 This book explores the construction of Internally Displaced Persons IDPs identity as a social group in Georgia framed through Tajfel and Turner's Social Identity Theory It examines the key factors shaping the identity of Georgian IDPs displaced by ethnic conflicts in two major migration waves the early 1990s and 2008 from Abkhazia and South Ossetia Divided into two parts the study first looks at the historical context of the ethnic conflicts and the state's responses to displacement The second part focuses on the formation of IDP identity analyzing how external definitions by the host community have perpetuated devaluation throughout the post Soviet period It also highlights the self-perceptions characteristics and tactics that have helped transform IDP identity from a devalued label to a more positive and resilient social identity The EU and Conflict Resolution Nathalie Tocci, 2007-05-22 Through the study of five ethno-political conflicts lying on or just beyond Europe's borders this book analyzes the impact and effectiveness of EU foreign policy on conflict resolution Conflict resolution features strongly as an objective of the European Union's foreign policy In promoting this aim the EU's geographical focus has rested primarily in its beleaguered backyard to the south and to the east Taking a strong comparative approach Nathalie Tocci explores the principal determinants of conflict dynamics in Cyprus Turkey Serbia Montenegro Israel Palestine and Georgia in order to assess the impact of EU contractual ties on them The volume includes topical analysis based on first hand experience in depth interviews with all the relevant actors and photography in ongoing conflict areas in the Middle East the Eastern Mediterranean the Balkans and the Caucasus This revealing study shows that the gap between

State-Building as Lawfare Egor Lazarev, 2023-02-09. State Building as Lawfare explores the use of state and non-state legal systems by both politicians and ordinary people in postwar Chechnya. The book addresses two interrelated puzzles: why do local rulers tolerate and even promote non-state legal systems at the expense of state law, and why do some members of repressed ethnic minorities choose to resolve their everyday disputes using state legal systems instead of non-state alternatives. The book documents how the rulers of Chechnya promote and reinvent customary law and Sharia in order to borrow legitimacy from tradition and religion, increase autonomy from the metropole, and accommodate communal authorities and former rebels. At the same time, the book shows how prolonged armed conflict disrupted the traditional social hierarchies and pushed some Chechen women to use state law, spurring state formation from below.

The Politics of Memory in Post-Authoritarian Transitions, Volume One Joanna Marszałek-Kawa, Joanna Piechowiak-Lamparska, Anna Ratke-Majewska, 2017-01-06. History is a powerful tool in the hands of politicians and can be a destructive weapon since power over the past is the power to decide who is a hero and who is a traitor. Tradition, the memory of ancestors and the experience of previous generations are the keys that unlock the door to citizens' minds and allow certain ideas, visions and political programs to flourish. However, can history be a proper political weapon during democratisation processes when the past is clearly separated from the present? Are the new order and society founded on the basis of some interpretation of the past, or rather are they founded only with reference to the imagined future of the nation? This book explores such questions through a detailed description of the use of remembrance policies during political transformations. It discusses how interpretations of the past served the accomplishment of transitional objectives in countries as varied as Chile, Estonia, Georgia, Poland, South Africa and Spain. The book is a unique journey through different parts of the world, different cultures and different political systems, investigating how history was remembered and forgotten by certain democratic leaders. Individual chapters discuss how governments' remembrance policies were used to create a new citizen, to change a political culture and to justify the vision of the society promoted by the new elites. They explain why some difficult topics were avoided by politicians and why sometimes there was no transitional justice or punishment of the leaders of the authoritarian state. The book will be of interest to anyone wishing to explore policies of remembrance, democratisation and the role of memory in contemporary societies.

Frederick Starr, Karen Dawisha, 2024-11-01 This ambitious ten volume series develops a comprehensive analysis of the evolving world role of the post Soviet successor states Each volume considers a different factor influencing the relationship between internal politics and international relations in Russia and in the western and southern tiers of newly independent states The collapse of the Soviet Union and the discrediting of Marxism Leninism as a source of political legitimacy have prompted a search for fresh principles of political organization that will shape the nature of political culture in all the post Soviet countries This volume looks at military power and state building Non-traditional Security Threats and Regional Cooperation in the Southern Caucasus Mustafa Aydın, 2011 This book contains 16 papers presented at the workshop Non Traditional Security Threats and Regional Cooperation in the Southern Caucasus which was held in Istanbul Turkey in October 2009 Whilst the Cold War did not exclude the existence of other threats such as environmental hazards organized crime terrorism economic instability and illegal immigration it is only since the emphasis on East West rivalry and the specter of nuclear confrontation between the two blocs have diminished that these have become articulated as major sources of concern for global security Cultural Contestation Jeroen Rodenberg, Pieter Wagenaar, 2018-07-04 Heritage practices often lead to social exclusion as such practices can favor certain values over others In some cases exclusion from a society's symbolic landscape can spark controversy or rouse emotion so much so that they result in cultural contestation Examples of this abound but few studies explicitly analyze the role of government in these instances In this volume scholars from a variety of academic backgrounds examine the various and often conflicting roles governments play in these processes and governments do play a role They act as authors and authorizers of the symbolic landscape from which societal groups may feel excluded Yet they also often attempt to bring parties together and play a mitigating role The International Politics of Eurasia: v. 5: State Building and Military Power in Russia and the New States of Eurasia Bruce Parrott, 2016-09-16 First Published in 1996 This ambitious ten volume series develops a comprehensive analysis of the evolving world role of the post Soviet successor states Each volume considers a different factor influencing the relationship between internal politics

Conflict Resolution in De Facto States Sebastian

Relitz,2022-07-22 This book explores the challenges of conflict resolution in protracted conflicts and conceptualises and analyses the practice of engagement without recognition in de facto states Increasingly engagement without recognition is seen as a promising approach to conflict resolution in de facto states but little is known about its implementation and results This book addresses that lacuna and develops an analytical model to assess international engagement focusing on implementation on the ground This model enables a comprehensive analysis of international engagement s scope areas and methods Further the book also explores the context of engagement in de facto states which has a significant impact on its implementation and results In this way the book also advances our understanding of the opportunities obstacles and limitations of engagement without recognition The analysis is based on the current EU engagement in Abkhazia and draws from other cases in the Caucasus Eastern Europe and beyond and finds that international engagement with de facto states is more comprehensive and multifaceted than previously known However it also faces some distinct challenges and produces modest results Finally the book provides practical recommendations on how to better utilise the peacebuilding potential of engagement without recognition This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution statehood peace and conflict studies and international relations
