English Review ,1881 Traversals of Affect Julie Gaillard,Claire Nouvet,Mark Stoholski,2016-04-21 This volume traces the topic of affect across Lyotard's corpus and accounts for Lyotard's crucial and original contribution to the thinking of affect. Highlighting the importance of affect in Lyotard's philosophy, this work offers a unique contribution to both affect theory and the reception of Lyotard. Affect indeed traverses Lyotard's philosophical corpus in various ways and under various names: figure or the figural in Discourse; Figure unbound intensities in his libidinal writings; the feeling of the differend in The Differend; affect and infantia in his later writings. Across the span of his work, Lyotard insisted on the intractability of affect on what he would later call the differend between affect and articulation. The singular awakening of sensibility, affect, both traverses and escapes articulation, discourse, and representation. Lyotard devoted much of his attention to the analysis of this traversal of affect in and through articulation, its transpositions, translations, and transfers. This volume explores Lyotard's account of affect as it traverses the different fields encompassed by his writings: philosophy, the visual arts, the performing arts, literature, music, politics, psychoanalysis, as well as technology and post-human studies.

Derrida, Supplements Jean-Luc Nancy, 2023-09-05. When Jean-Luc Nancy first encountered the work of Jacques Derrida in the 1960s, he knew he was hearing something new, a voice genuinely of its time. Thinking with and against each other over the course of their long friendship, the two thinkers reshaped the European intellectual landscape. Nancy's writings on Derrida, collected in this volume, reflect on the elements of their shared concerns with politics, the arts, religion, the fate of deconstruction, and the future of sense. Rather than studies, commentaries, or interpretations of Derrida's thought, they are responses to his presence, not exactly a presence to self but a presence in the world.
