Orientation

Sets the scene & introduces the characters & setting.

Most Fantasy stories have the characters "on a quest".

Characters usually have to make very hard decisions where neither choice has a good outcome.

... choose words very carefully to
... in the readers mind.

Characterisation

Authors choose words very carefully to create a character's personality in a story and bring them alive.

- Can be DIRECT - The author tells the reader what the personality of the character is - "The character is mean"
- Can be INDIRECT - The author shows the reader the character's personality through what the character says, thinks, how others act towards them, their actions, and the way they look.

- series of events
- a conflict
- story

The time and/or

The main idea of the story.
It might be a message
the author wants us to know about human nature.

White,2006-06-10 I am delighted to have the opportunity to write this foreword for Karyn Cooper s and Robert White s splendid and compelling edited text on The Practical Critical Educator Critical practice in education is grounded in two bodies of thought and action critical theory and critical pedagogy Drawing on classical Marxism and its articulation of how oppression and injustice arose through capitalism s economic exploitation of labour critical theories of society took a cultural turn in the writings of Adorno and Horkheimer European Jewish refugees who fled to America where they articulated how the power relations and oppressive forces of capitalism expressed themselves in the alienating symbolic forces of culture music and art When booming demographics and an economic surplus fuelled the student movement of the late 60s and in to the 70s in many Western nations new forms of cultural Marxism were added to this body of critical theory extending beside but also far beyond the classical Marxist preoccupations with economic equalities of social class British writers such as the articulate and elegant cultural Marxist Raymond Williams revived and refined the lost work of Italian Marxist Antonio Gramsci from the 1920s and his concern with the influence of what he called hegemony the force through which ruling classes could maintain existing structures of domination by defining through language media and culture what was normal natural true beautiful and defensible and what was eccentric unreasonable or unworthy of serious consideration Teach Writing Well Ruth Culham,2023-10-10 Ask great writers what the key to writing well is and they will tell you revision Author Ruth Culham both a successful writer and writing teacher understands the challenges elementary teachers face when teaching writing and revision and now shares her knowledge in Teach Writing Well How to Assess Writing Invigorate Instruction and Rethink Revision Divided into two parts Culham s book provides ways to teach that are both accessible to the teacher and student You will find techniques to assess writing that are practical and results driven Inside you ll discover Culham s traits of writing and how to use them to read and assess student work Ways to guide revision decisions using these traits as common language How to address challenges students may face within the different modes of writing narrative expository and persuasive Strategic lessons to teach the writer that scaffold students towards making their own craft decisions A chapter on mentor texts which can be used to model traits and key qualities for your students Teach Writing Well pulls best practices together and shows writing with fresh eyes

With the help of Alex and his sister Ileana, Noni learns everything about the powerful Light that lies dormant inside her while trying to keep the truth hidden from her family. Noni must protect herself, her loved ones, and her Light from the creatures that seek it. It will take strength, sacrifice, and faith to awaken the truth about her power and keep everyone safe.

Fake, Fact, and Fantasy Maire Messenger Davies, 2013-11-05 Based on a study examining the meaning of the term media literacy in children, this volume concentrates on audiovisual narratives of television and film and their effects. It closely examines children's concepts of real and unreal and how they learn to make distinctions between the two. It also explores the idea that children are protected from the harmful effects of violence on television by the knowledge that what they see is not real. This volume is unique in its use of children's own words to explore their awareness of the submerged conventions of television genres, of their functions and effects, of their relationship to the real world, and of how this awareness varies with age and other factors. Based on detailed questionnaire data and conversations with 6 to 11 year old children carried out with the support of a fellowship at the Annenberg School for Communication, University of Pennsylvania, the book eloquently demonstrates how children use their knowledge of real life, of literature, and of art in intelligently evaluating the relationship between television's formats and the real world in which they live.
