The Economic and Opportunity Gap Anni K. Reinking,Theresa M. Bouley,2021-04-01 The Economic and Opportunity Gap has a great deal of information ideas and resources focused on children and families living in poverty Specifically how teachers and other professionals working with students can reflect improve and implement inclusive practices The information in this book is based in research such as the foundational starting piece that nearly one fourth of our children in the United States are living in poverty a whopping 21% This number one that is doubled in some communities and does not consider children in families near the poverty line is striking when compared to other similarly situated countries Understanding that many students and families are on the trajectory of poverty will come to light as readers make their way through from statistics to research to definitions to action items

Teaching Life Writing Texts Miriam Fuchs,Craig Howes,2008 The past thirty years have witnessed a rapid growth in the number and variety of courses and programs that study life writing from literary philosophical psychological and cultural perspectives The field has evolved from the traditional approach that biographies and autobiographies were always about prominent people historically significant persons the nobility celebrities writers to the conception of life writing as a genre of interrogation and revelation The texts now studied include memoirs testimonios diaries oral histories genealogies and group biographies and extend to resources in the visual and plastic arts in films and videos and on the Internet Today the tensions between canonical and emergent life writing texts between the famous and the formerly unrepresented are making the study of biography and autobiography a far more nuanced and multifarious activity This volume in the MLA series Options for Teaching builds on and complements earlier work on pedagogical issues in life writing studies Over forty contributors from a broad range of educational institutions describe courses for every level of postsecondary instruction Some writers draw heavily on literary and cultural theory others share their assignments and weekly syllabi Many essays grapple with texts that represent disability illness abuse and depression ethnic sexual and racial discrimination crises and catastrophes witnessing and testimonials human rights violations and genocide The classes described are taught in humanities cultural studies social science and language departments and are located in among other countries the United States Great Britain Canada Australia Germany Eritrea and South Africa
