regime And it is not narrowing it is rapidly becoming an unbridgeable chasm Nor is this a problem merely for developing countries the headlong trend toward dematerialisation of trade documents in the developed world will grind to a halt unless all trading countries without exception possess the legal and operational ability to participate in paperless trade This challenging work not only describes the obstacles to universal support for paperless trade but also provides solutions that can be implemented if stakeholders make the collective effort to achieve this most desirable and in fact necessary goal Dr Laryea investigates such central issues as the following legal problems and security risks not encountered in paper documentation accommodating low tech problems with electronic documentation and funding the construction of information and communication technology infrastructure in developing countries The presentation focuses on each of the essential contract documents in turn from the quotation to the documentary credit explaining exactly how the electronic versions of each work particularly in terms of security and why each is desirable As the first comprehensive set of practical proposals from a truly global perspective for the speedy dematerialisation of trade documents Paperless Trade is essential reading for traders practitioners academics and national and international officials and policymakers engaged in facilitating world trade

Quantitative Methods for Assessing the Effects of Non-tariff Measures and Trade Facilitation Philippa S. Dee, Michael J. Ferrantino, 2005 As tariffs have fallen worldwide the increasing importance of non tariff policies for further trade liberalization has become widely recognized The methods for assessing the potential effects of such liberalization have lagged significantly behind those available for analyzing tariffs This book is the first volume that comprehensively addresses this gap It has been designed to be useful for both economists and policymakers especially for those involved in communicating ideas and results between economists and policymakers This indispensable book contains cutting edge discussions of the full range of methodologies used in this area including business surveys summary statistics such as effective rates of protection and price gaps time series and panel econometrics and simulation methods such as computable general equilibrium It covers the entire spectrum of policies under discussion in current trade negotiations including trade facilitation services policies quantitative measures customs procedures standards movement of natural persons and anti dumping Some prominent contributors to this book are Bijit Bora World Trade Organization John Wilson Tsunehiro Otsuki and Vlad Manole World Bank Catherine Mann Institute of International Economics Alan Deardorff and Robert Stern University of Michigan Joe Francois Erasmus University Dean Spinanger University of Kiel Antoni Estevadeordal and Kati Suominen Inter American Development Bank Thomas Prusa Rutgers University Thomas Hertel and Terrie Walmsley Purdue University Scott Bradford Brigham Young University Judith Dean Robert Feinberg Soamiely Andriamananjara and Marinos Tsigas US International Trade Commission Electronic Business in Developing Countries Sherif Kamel, 2006-01-01 This books tackles issues of e business with a vision to the future on how to bridge these gaps and close down the barriers between the different corners of the world Provided by publisher Leadership Strategies for Global Supply Chain

Management in Emerging Markets Dwivedi, Ashish, Alshamrani, Mohammed Saad, 2020-05-22 In recent decades the rapid expansion of trade and investment among developing countries has resulted in a scenario wherein firms from developing countries account for an increasing share of capital goods and wealth in the global economy Industry leaders from developing countries have observed that firms in developing countries need to identify and develop key supply chain capabilities in order to succeed in emerging markets It is argued that customers in emerging markets are likely to have different needs and supply chain expectations as compared to customers in developed economies Reaching into these emerging markets understanding the customer diversity and translating it into effective segmentation schemes are critical for the efficient design of supply chain operations Leadership Strategies for Global Supply Chain Management in Emerging Markets is a pivotal reference source that provides vital research on creating efficient supply chain operations in emerging markets While highlighting topics such as consumer behavior global operations and information transparency this publication investigates the needs of consumers in emerging markets as well as the methods of designing effective operations This book is ideally designed for supply chain managers logistics managers operations and warehousing professionals industry practitioners academicians students and researchers

Port, Maritime and Hinterland Development in Southeast Asia (UUM Press) Ahmad Bashawir Abdul Ghani ,2014-10-01 This book addresses myriad of issues and challenges in the field of port maritime and hinterland development in Southeast Asia from multidisciplinary perspectives Instead of focusing on only certain aspects of the maritime discipline the book presents a range of different viewpoint from business and management historical development geography law and others Although the book is made in the form of an edited book readers will benefit and gain knowledge on many important issues in the field of port maritime and hinterland development in Southeast Asia This book will also be beneficial to all parties in this area including policy and decision makers government officials port authorities port operators or terminal operators maritime related service providers such as freight forwarders in port ship agents navigation officers customs brokers stevedores and other port users shippers passengers and carriers This book is also catered for those involved in maritime research or students who take maritime subject or to the public who are interested in maritime issues The contributors of this book are experts from diverse backgrounds with extensive experience in the fields of port maritime and hinterland development This is because we believe that maritime studies are intertwined with many aspects of life from environmental management to disputes at the sea which will affect the maritime trade industry Hence issues in this book are also various However the emphasis is on the development of port maritime and hinterland sector in Southeast Asia

Alternative Capitalisms: Geographies of Emerging Regions Robert Gwynne, Denis Shaw, Thomas Klak, 2014-05-12 This book aims to examine the effects of globalization and economic and political transformations in those parts of the world which are now regularly referred to as emerging regions These are Latin America and the Caribbean East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union and East Asia This book breaks new ground in three areas First of all it develops a critique of the use of the term emerging regions for geographers and social scientists and relates this to world systems theory Secondly it explores the development trajectories and challenges of countries in this so called emerging world countries that will be crucial to the evolution of the world economy in the twenty first century Thirdly it compares and contrasts the pathways of both economic and political change in the three world regions under focus This is a unique approach in terms of books published in both geography and the social sciences Within the context of the three world regions the book combines historical and contemporary analysis of the evolving world system In these regions we are concerned to understand the historical expansion and extension of capitalism and how its contemporary forms of production exchange and regulation are evolving The authors believe that at the present time these processes have produced alternative capitalisms economic and associated developments which while assuredly capitalist differ in various ways from those typical of the capitalist West or core economies of North America and Western Europe

A compendium on international trade in Lesotho ,2025-09-15 International trade is a topic that is important for all states regardless of their level of development Trade can directly increase foreign exchange earnings and allow consumers to access desired foreign goods and services Indirectly trade potentially increases employment and improves technology via spillover effects It ultimately improves economic growth and enhances living standards Conversely there can be negative effects to trade especially when imports are high Examples are jobs being outsourced increased economic dependence de industrialisation in importing countries as well as exposure to negative external shocks Therefore it is crucial to critically examine the multifaceted ways that international trade manifests in any economy It is on this premise that this compendium interrogates various aspects of international trade in the context of Lesotho Although Lesotho is a small country it is strategically located relative to South Africa which gives it several trade advantages The country is willing to engage in international trade and investment deals and it is a member of several significant trade agreements that facilitate its integration into regional and global markets Examples of these are the African Growth and Opportunity Act AGOA the Southern African Customs Union SACU the Southern African Development Community SADC Free Trade Area and the Tripartite Free Trade Area which combines the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA SADC and the East African Community Understanding the various dimensions of international trade in Lesotho is imperative for investors scholars and international business firms but published international trade literature on Lesotho is very scarce This compendium brings to light the implications of international trade on the history and legal political social geographical and economic realities of Lesotho The book will also have a wide appeal for similar economies beyond the particular geographical context of Lesotho
