decodability at unintended receivers and adversaries Hence we can transform interference into a beneficial phenomenon that provides security Building on this approach we make four main contributions We present the first WiFi receiver that can successfully reconstruct the transmitted information in the presence of packet collisions Next we introduce a WiFi receiver design that can decode in the presence of high power cross technology interference from devices like baby monitors cordless phones microwave ovens or even unknown technologies We then show how we can harness interference to improve security In particular we develop the first system that secures an insecure medical implant without any modification to the implant itself Finally we present a solution that establishes secure connections between any two WiFi devices without having users enter passwords or use pre shared secret keys
