Undp And Human Development Report:

Human Development Report 1994 United Nations Development Programme, 1994 This is the fifth edition of the Human Development Report Each edition includes a section on a specific issue in human development and this issue focuses on a new development paradigm As with previous editions it provides unique tables updated and derived from a set of Human Development indicators

Human Development Report 2005 United Nations Development Programme, 2005 The Human Development Report 2005 examines the scale of the challenge facing the world at the start of the ten year countdown to the 2015 Millennium Development Goals mark The Report focuses on three pillars of cooperation each of which is in urgent need of renovation The first pillar is international aid the Millennium Development Goals MDGs project has been compromised by chronic and sustained under financing allied to problems in aid quality The second pillar is international trade Under the right conditions trade can act as a powerful catalyst for human development The development round of World Trade Organization talks launched in 2001 provided northern governments with an opportunity to create those conditions The third pillar is that of security violent conflict is a source of systematic human rights violation and a barrier to progress towards the MDGs that must be overcome

The Skeptical Environmentalist Bjørn Lomborg, 2001-08-30 The Skeptical Environmentalist challenges widely held beliefs that the environmental situation is getting worse and worse The author himself a former member of Greenpeace is critical of the way in which many environmental organisations make selective and misleading use of the scientific evidence Using the best available statistical information from internationally recognised research institutes Bjørn Lomborg systematically examines a range of major environmental problems that feature prominently in headline news across the world His arguments are presented in non technical accessible language and are carefully backed up by over 2500 footnotes allowing readers to check sources for themselves Concluding that there are more reasons for optimism than pessimism Bjørn Lomborg stresses the need for clear headed prioritisation of resources to tackle real not imagined problems The Skeptical Environmentalist offers readers a non partisan stocktaking exercise that serves as a useful corrective to the more alarmist accounts favoured by campaign groups and the media

National gender profile of agriculture and rural livelihoods Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2023-08-07 In Angola around 80 percent of farmers are smallholders so the agriculture sector still represents an important source of income employment and food for a large part of the production Women constitute the majority of the labour force in agriculture and are critical agents of change in the fight against rural poverty hunger and malnutrition In Angola 4.8 million women live in rural areas and the 38.3 percent of the country's women have agriculture as their main activity However inequalities in access to land agricultural inputs training and knowledge limit their contribution to agricultural productivity and economic development At community level women have low participation in decision making Angola has made consistent efforts to address existing gender inequalities in the agriculture and labour sectors given the important role that women play in agriculture and the country's food systems

Although gender mainstreaming in agriculture and rural development sectors is in its early stages in recent years progress has been made to benefit women more consistently This assessment revealed that gender inequalities remain widespread and particularly evident in rural areas despite the progress made in establishing a legal and policy framework for advancing women s rights and gender equality

Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace-Sustainability-Climate Security Nexus Bernard Amadei,2023-11-28 Promoting peace and sustainability in human development while accounting for the risks associated with the impact of climate change on society has become more imperative than ever when addressing humanity s challenges of the twenty first century There is enough evidence that peace sustainability and climate security are entangled with multiple complex interactions and cannot be dealt with in isolation and independently from the environment and the numerous systems with which they interact Yet the intersection of peace sustainability and climate security or their opposites i e conflict unsustainability and climate vulnerability is rarely articulated with a systemic mindset A multi solving nexus approach is more appropriate to capture the complexity and uncertainty of how the three sectors of peace sustainability and climate security play a role in community development the nature of their causal chains and the feedback on how community development affects the three sectors Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace Sustainability Climate Security Nexus explores the value proposition of using a systems approach methodology and tools to comprehend and model that dynamic Features of the book Explores the interaction between the different components of peace and the relationship between peace sustainability and climate security using semi qualitative and quantitative tools Explains how climate adaptation and mitigation are related to peace or conflict Presents generic system dynamics modeling that can be used in different contexts

Displacement, Development, and Climate Change Nina Hall, 2016-03-22 This book focuses on one critical challenge climate change Climate change is predicted to lead to an increased intensity and frequency of natural disasters An increase in extreme weather events global temperatures and higher sea levels may lead to displacement and migration and will affect many dimensions of the economy and society Although scholars are examining the complexity and fragmentation of the climate change regime they have not examined how our existing international development migration and humanitarian organizations are dealing with climate change Focusing on three institutions the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees the International Organization for Migration and the United Nations Development Programme the book asks how have these inter governmental organizations responded to climate change And are they moving beyond their original mandates given none were established with a mandate for climate change It traces their responses to climate change in their rhetoric policy structure operations and overall mandate change Hall argues that international bureaucrats can play an important role in mandate expansion often deciding whether and how to expand into a new issue area and then lobbying states to endorse this expansion They make changes in rhetoric policy structure and operations on the ground and therefore forge frame and internalize new issue linkages This book helps us to understand how institutions established in the 20th century are adapting to a 21st century world It will be of great interest to scholars and students of International Relations Development Studies Environmental Politics International Organizations and Global Governance as well as international officials

Reproductive Health and Gender Equality Guang-zhen Wang, 2016-04-08 Since the late 1990s approaches to women s reproductive health has shifted from a service based model to a human rights approach This approach associates reproductive health with freedom from discrimination and enjoyment of a satisfying and safe sex life and full access to information and services related to reproduction In spite of this shift and the global effort to promote women s reproductive health through the enhancement of human rights and gender equality progress has been very slow In this book the author fills a much needed empirical study of women s reproductive health The author assesses data from 137 developing countries or areas and challenges the prevailing bioscience and public health models by linking women s reproductive health to gender equality measures and development policies Discussion on abortion rights regional variations and reproductive health needs among refugees and internally displaced persons are also discussed This is a timely study which provides a theoretical and social policy basis for monitoring and improving women s reproductive health in developing countries This is particularly important in the light of insufficient research in the field and a lack of analysis on the empirical and theoretical linkages between reproductive health and gender equality The book will be of interest to researchers professionals and students interested in women s health issues gender women s studies and human rights
