Innovation from Information Systems Olivier Dupouet, Tatiana Bouzdine-Chameeva, C. Lakshman, 2012-09-25 Relying on the extensive study of a multi national Company this work proposes a process view of the way firms balance tensions between exploring new knowledge and exploiting old one. First ideas are generated throughout the organization. These ideas are funneled towards specific project teams that further develop and refine them. Second projects are assessed by the top management. Agreed projects are then progressively transformed into exploitable products following a transformative learning process. We then make propositions regarding the role information systems can play in sustaining this process. Regarding the first phase of the cycle we will focus on systems that help in sustaining idea generation and in balancing explorative and exploitive projects in the technologies portfolio of the firm. Regarding the second phase we will look at information systems that could be useful in supporting knowledge transfer and knowledge interpretation across a multi national company.
