Bias and Causation Herbert I. Weisberg,2011-01-06 A one of a kind resource on identifying and dealing with bias in statistical research on causal effects Do cell phones cause cancer Can a new curriculum increase student achievement Determining what the real causes of such problems are and how powerful their effects may be are central issues in research across various fields of study Some researchers are highly skeptical of drawing causal conclusions except in tightly controlled randomized experiments while others discount the threats posed by different sources of bias even in less rigorous observational studies Bias and Causation presents a complete treatment of the subject organizing and clarifying the diverse types of biases into a conceptual framework The book treats various sources of bias in comparative studies both randomized and observational and offers guidance on how they should be addressed by researchers Utilizing a relatively simple mathematical approach the author develops a theory of bias that outlines the essential nature of the problem and identifies the various sources of bias that are encountered in modern research The book begins with an introduction to the study of causal inference and the related concepts and terminology Next an overview is provided of the methodological issues at the core of the difficulties posed by bias Subsequent chapters explain the concepts of selection bias confounding intermediate causal factors and information bias along with the distortion of a causal effect that can result when the exposure and or the outcome is measured with error The book concludes with a new classification of twenty general sources of bias and practical advice on how mathematical modeling and expert judgment can be combined to achieve the most credible causal conclusions Throughout the book examples from the fields of medicine public policy and education are incorporated into the presentation of various topics In addition six detailed case studies illustrate concrete examples of the significance of biases in everyday research Requiring only a basic understanding of statistics and probability theory Bias and Causation is an excellent supplement for courses on research methods and applied statistics at the upper undergraduate and graduate level It is also a valuable reference for practicing researchers and methodologists in various fields of study who work with statistical data This book was selected as the 2011 Ziegel Prize Winner in Technometrics for the best book reviewed by the journal It is also the winner of the 2010 PROSE Award for Mathematics from The American Publishers Awards for Professional and Scholarly Excellence

Misogyny and Media in the Age of Trump Maria B. Marron, 2019-12-19 Misogyny and Media in the Age of Trump argues that misogyny has increased in the United States under President Trump and that although women's experiences under misogyny are by no means universal patriarchal social and institutional systems facilitate gender based hostility Systemic misogyny and power inequities are at the root of male on female bullying the bullying and harassment of non hegemonic males and other minorities as well as sexual harassment rape and even murder Given the prevalence of misogyny and its deep rootedness in religion it is argued that the social contract needs to be rewritten in order to have a just gender and race equitable society Misogyny creates a clash of cultures between men and women hegemonic and non hegemonic males feminists and INCELS the powerful and the oppressed natives and marginalized minorities the conservative and the liberal progressive This book explores misogyny across media ranging from political and editorial cartoons to news sport film television social media especially Twitter and journalistic organizations that address gender inequities The authors argue that the current era of conservative populism ushered in by President Donald Trump and the Republicans constitute the social cultural and political environment that have given rise to the MeToo Movement and Fourth Wave Feminism
