Target Discovery and Validation Reviews and Protocols Mouldy Sioud,2008-02-04 Target discovery is a field that has existed for several years but is so vibrant today because of the recent progress in our understanding of the molecular mechanisms of many human diseases and the technical advances in target identification and validation More sophisticated gene profiling technologies such as DNA microarrays and serial analysis of gene expression permit rapid identification of lead targets Moreover analysis of gene networks in living organisms allows the identification of target genes that operate in defined physiological pathways With the sequencing of several genomes completed and the rapidly growing gene expression databases there is now greater impetus than ever before for in silico discovery of therapeutic targets Also recent advances in genetic technologies have increased our ability to generate mouse models for human diseases The implications of these genetically modified animals in drug development are several including identification of new drug targets predicting efficacy and uncovering possible side effects Together these recent technical advances should allow researchers to make the most informed choice early and advance the chosen targets toward clinical studies Regarding cancers any difference between a cancer and a normal cell could potentially be exploited as a therapeutic target The hope is that drugs targeting specific constituents or pathways in cancer cells will provide more effective therapy either alone or in combination with other currently used anticancer drugs In addition to drug targets identifying new target antigens remains as much of a challenge as improving tumor vaccines already in the clinic

Target 3 Billion Avul Pakir Jainulabdeen Abdul Kalam,2011

Half the world's population 3 billion people are below the poverty line and 70 per cent of the world's poor live in rural areas. Target 3 Billion encapsulates Dr A P J Abdul Kalam's mission to eradicate poverty from the world. With 750 million people living in villages India has the largest rural population in the world. Based on his Indian experience Dr Kalam recommends a sustainable and inclusive development system called PURA (Providing Urban Amenities in Rural Areas) to uplift the rural poor not by subsidies but through entrepreneurship with community participation. To make his case Dr Kalam cites the examples of individuals and institutions in India and from across the world who with an entrepreneurial spirit and a burning desire to make a difference have successfully generated and tapped into the potential of the rural masses. Fabio Luiz de Oliveria Rosa changed the face of the rural district of Palmares Brazil by acquiring for the farmers access to electricity and water which effect combined with better agricultural methods led to an increase in prosperity and stemmed the migration to cities. The 123 strong Magar clan owned Magarpatta a 430 acre plot on the outskirts of Pune Maharashtra. In the 1990s they organized and set up the Magarpatta city which is now home to over 35 000 residents and a working population of 65 000 and boasts of an IT park. Target 3 Billion tells the story of the brilliantly envisaged global sustainable development system that is PURA outlining Dr Kalam's vision for every individual and organization a vision that can create 3 billion empowered productive and healthy citizens and generate 3 billion smiles.
