

TEACHING EXPERIENCE AND REFLECTION

Saleema Gulzar¹, Shahid Shamim MF², Catherine Lobo³

ABSTRACT

The standard of education can be improved if educators actively assess themselves or have someone else evaluate their teaching skills. Reflection on multiple aspects of teaching can be used as a powerful tool for worldwide educationists. Teaching, particularly in nursing discipline, strives to move beyond the simple divulgence of facts and knowledge. It widens student's horizons, stimulates their intellects, and teaches them to become self directed. This manuscript is a qualitative review of observations in a class of nursing with context to teaching skills and its impact on students' interest in learning during the class. The authors have used their reflections to discuss the ways to improve teaching methodology and related them with various teaching learning theories.

KEY WORDS: Reflection, Teaching strategies, Humour in teaching, Role play, Teaching theories, Self directed learning, Teaching and learning principles, Andragogy approach.

INTRODUCTION

"The task of the excellent teacher is to stimulate apparently ordinary people to unusual effort. The tough problem is not in identifying winners: it is in making winners out of ordinary people" (K. Patricia Cross).

This quotation shows a great significance of teaching and the true role of a teacher.

Teaching is not merely to reform students or to make them expert technicians, it is to widen their horizon; inflame their intellects; and teach them to be self directed. Therefore teaching in any discipline and particularly in nursing, should always strive to move beyond simply divulging of facts and knowledge or even training of certain skills. Instead, teachers have the broad responsibility of serving as guide and mentor on an intellectual journey, opening and broadening curious minds by exposing students to creative thoughts and ideas. This manuscript was prepared after observing a class of nursing students, conducted by one of the authors, as a reflective process of faculty in order to portray learning experiences for better teaching methods.

METHODOLOGY

There were 33, third year diploma nursing, students in the session/ class being observed for reflections. Teacher was a trained faculty with 25 years of teaching experience. The topic

Developing Trauma-Informed Teachers Ofelia Schepers,Megan

Brennan,Philip E. Bernhardt,2022-07-01 Trauma is a public health crisis High rates of trauma exposure among youth and the impact that experiences of trauma can have on students psychosocial and academic outcomes are well established These traumatic events do not live outside of the scope of schools and teaching As children and teachers develop communities within their classrooms and schools trauma comes with those who have experienced it whether invited or not Bien Motta 2012 These experiences capture many facets of students lives including traumatic events however many teachers indicate that they feel unprepared to address students who have experienced trauma in meaningful and sustainable ways Caringi et al

2015 In response many schools and districts have adopted trauma informed practices Overstreet Chafouleas 2016 This text addresses the gap in the literature in embedding trauma informed practices into pre service teacher education This text provides examples of the various ways educator preparation faculty are developing and implementing trauma informed practices across their programs instituting broader curricular shifts to incorporate trauma informed practices shifting pedagogical practices to include trauma informed practices and collaborating across disciplines in order to ensure that teacher candidates are thoughtfully prepared to address students needs and create classroom environments that are equitable safe and sustainable for students and teachers Reflective Practices in Arts Education Pamela Burnard,Sarah Hennessy,2006-08-12 It is an exciting time to be an artist and artist educator Networks of schools and artists are being motivated by arts partnerships a relatively new phenomenon in a field which whilst disparate in its character and practice is marked by a common intention to respond effectively and critically to politically driven agendas of accountability school improvement and pupil attainment More than ever artists and educators alike have begun to realise the need to develop practices which offer the development of artist educator pedagogies as agencies for change and political action Understanding the function of reflective practice the conditions which support it and its impact on learning are addressed throughout this book We hope that the book will motivate readers with a diversity of interests and needs to engage in reflections of their own professional practices and of the practices of the communities in which they work This book is about reflection The thesis about the field it covers and major premise of this book is that reflection matters at every turn in arts engagement and even more so in educational settings where artist educators share a passion for facilitating and understanding the how of learners engagement with particular art forms It aims to show ways in which reflection can inform and transform practice in terms of what when and how reflection is embodied in arts engagement Mathematics Teaching Johnny W. Lott,Jennifer Luebeck,2015-06-01 Originally published in 2010 The seventh monograph of AMTE highlights examples of important scholarship of and for the mathematics teacher education community This monograph like others produced by AMTE serves as a forum for mathematics teacher educators to exchange ideas experiences resources and detailed accounts of work to improve teacher preparation Chapters in this monograph take up a variety of issues such as using online social networking in the preparation of teachers examining the impact of textbook specific professional development and offering a mathematics specific reading in the content area course Educating Prospective Secondary Mathematics Teachers Marilyn E. Strutchens,Rongjin Huang,Despina Potari,Leticia Losano,2018-06-01 This book highlights innovative approaches to preparing secondary mathematics teachers Based on empirical findings gathered in several countries on five continents it provides a wealth of best practices for preparing secondary mathematics teachers and discusses issues related to their professional and personal growth such as identity content knowledge and pedagogical content knowledge which also includes knowledge of integrating technology into teaching and learning mathematics Divided into four parts the book focuses on field experiences technologies tools and resources teacher knowledge and teacher professional identities Some of the main threads running through the book are the importance of university and school partners working together to ensure preservice secondary mathematics teacher success in developing pedagogical strategies that lead toward students mathematical engagement and achievement the critical need for preservice secondary mathematics teachers to develop strong content knowledge and pedagogical content knowledge and the importance of providing opportunities during pre service education for developing prospective teachers professional identities
