TEL in this critical context and in achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal for education Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all Global Change and Challenge Robert Bennett, Robert Estall, 2012-11-12 We are now experiencing a period of unprecedented change what amounts to a global revolution in our economy society and awareness of the human impact on the environment Global Change and Challenge examines some of the crucial issues facing society in the 1990s and how geography can contribute to their understanding and management Using the broad theme of how societies adapt to change the contributors seek to present a range of views on the geography of change in an accessible form for both school and university students The general aim of the book is as much to encourage students to understand where we are and where we have come from as to where we may be going Robert Bennett and Robert Estall are both Professors of Geography at the London School of Economics The contributors were all members of the Department of Geography at the LSE at the time of writing Field Manual No.1-111: Aviation Brigades ,

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Educational Technology J. Michael Spector, 2015-01-29 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Educational Technology examines information on leveraging the power of technology to support teaching and learning While using innovative technology to educate individuals is certainly not a new topic how it is approached adapted and used toward the services of achieving real gains in student performance is extremely pertinent This two volume encyclopedia explores such issues focusing on core topics and issues that will retain relevance in the face of perpetually evolving devices services and specific techniques As technology evolves and becomes even more low cost easy to use and more accessible the education sector will evolve alongside it For instance issues surrounding reasoning behind how one study has shown students retain information better in traditional print formats are a topic explored within the pages of this new encyclopedia Features A collection of 300 350 entries are organized in A to Z fashion in 2 volumes available in a choice of print or electronic formats Entries authored by key figures in the field conclude with cross references and further readings A detailed index the Reader's Guide themes and cross references combine for search and browse in the electronic version This reference encyclopedia is a reliable and precise source on educational technology and a must have reference for all academic libraries Law, Society, and Economy Richard Rawlings, London School of Economics and Political Science, 1997 This centenary volume of essays explores a number of related themes which differentiate and characterize the approach of the LSE Central to this is the assumption that law is one of the social sciences and that law should be studied in context as a social Family Men: Fathers as Coparents in Diverse Contexts and Family Structures Sarah E. DeMartini, Nancy Hazen, Martin I. Gallegos, Nicola Carone, Lauren Altenburger, 2022-08-26 Reinterpreting the Keynesian Revolution Robert Cord, 2013 Various explanations have been put forward as to why the Keynesian Revolution in economics in the 1930s and 1940s took place Some of these point to the temporal relevance of John Maynard Keynes's The General Theory of Employment Interest and Money 1936 appearing as it did just a handful of years after the onset of the Great Depression whilst others highlight the importance of more anecdotal evidence such as Keynes's close relations with the Cambridge Circus a group of able young Cambridge economists who dissected and assisted Keynes in developing crucial ideas in the years leading up to the General Theory. However, no systematic effort has been made to bring together these and other factors to examine them from a sociology of science perspective. This book fills this gap by taking its cue from a well-established tradition of work from history of science studies devoted to identifying the intellectual, technical, institutional, psychological, and financial factors which help to explain why certain research schools are successful and why others fail. This approach, it turns out, provides a coherent account of why the revolution in macroeconomics was Keynesian and why, on a related note, Keynes was able to see off contemporary competitor theorists, notably Friedrich von Hayek and Michal Kalecki.

Promoting Global Literacy Skills through

Technology-Infused Teaching and Learning Keengwe, Jared, 2014-08-31. The increasing internationalization of today's classrooms calls for learning institutions to prepare students for success in an interdependent and technologically advanced world. Faculty who are competent in multiple 21st-century skills are best equipped to engage students in curricula that are relevant, transformative, and engaging across content areas and cultures. Promoting Global Literacy Skills through Technology-Infused Teaching and Learning examines the function and role of globalization in 21st-century teaching and learning, especially in light of technology integration and the need to prepare and empower global educators and global citizens respectively. Covering topics that range from social networking in linguistics to software used in engineering curricula, this premier reference work will be relevant to academicians, researchers, students, librarians, practitioners, professionals, and engineers.

Routledge Handbook of Global Economic History

Francesco Boldizzoni, Pat Hudson, 2015-12-22. The Routledge Handbook of Global Economic History documents and interprets the development of economic history as a global discipline from the later nineteenth century to the present day. Exploring the normative and relativistic nature of different schools and traditions of thought, this handbook not only examines current paradigmatic western approaches but also those conceived in less open societies and in varied economic, political, and cultural contexts. In doing so, this book clears the way for greater critical understanding and a more genuinely global approach to economic history. This handbook brings together leading international contributors in order to systematically address cultural and intellectual traditions around the globe. Many of these are exposed for consideration for the first time in English. The chapters explore dominant ideas and historiographical trends and open them up to critical transnational perspectives This volume is essential reading for both academics and students in economic and social history As this field of study is very much a bridge between the social sciences and humanities the issues examined in the book will also have relevance for those seeking to understand the evolution of other academic disciplines under the pressures of varied economic political and cultural circumstances on both national and global scales

New Developments in Pathways Towards Diversity and Inclusion in STEM: A United States Perspective Alexander Gates, Juan Gilbert, Chris Botanga, Kim Nguyen, Bonita London, 2022-10-17

The Louis Stokes Alliances for Minority Participation LSAMP program of the US National Science Foundation has been a primary force for raising the success and graduation of minority students in STEM for 30 years Increasing the number of underrepresented students earning baccalaureate degrees and entering graduate school in STEM is the goal of LSAMP This goal has been nearly achieved through the formation of alliances of degree granting institutions of higher learning varying from community colleges to major research institutions Currently there are 59 alliances including more than 400 institutions LSAMP is responsible for more than 650 000 bachelor s degrees earned by minority students in STEM The papers for this Research Topic should focus on the use of LSAMP activities programs and collaborations to develop pathways to success and graduation of STEM majors from minority groups that underrepresented in STEM These pathways can include any segment from pre college through graduate school Areas of special interest include mentoring research experiences transitions between levels and novel approaches for retention The studies should be research based and rigorous They can be pure research studies curriculum and design or literature reviews but they must be at a cutting edge level and be subject to detailed review and assessment
