Criminal Justice Research in an Era of Mass Mobility Andriani Fili, Synnøve Jahnsen, Rebecca Powell, 2018-05-08 We live in an era of mass mobility where governments remain committed to closing borders engaging with securitisation discourses and restrictive immigration policies which in turn nurture xenophobia and racism It is within this wider context of social and political unrest that the contributors of this collection reflect on their experiences of conducting criminological research This collection focuses on the challenges of doing research on the intersections between criminal justice and immigration control choosing and changing methodologies while juggling the disciplinary and interdisciplinary requirements of the work's audience From research design to fieldwork to writing up this book captures every part of the research process drawing on a range of topics such as migration control immigrant detention and border policing It also reflects on more neglected areas such as the interpersonal and institutional contexts of research and the ontological and epistemological assumptions embedded within data analysis methods It makes a significant contribution to our understanding of the major developments in current research in this field how and why they occur and with what consequences This book seeks to shake off the phantom of undisturbed research settings by bringing to the fore the researchers involvement in the research process and its products An interdisciplinary collection it can be used as a reference not just for those interested in the criminology of mobility but also as a learning tool for anyone conducting research on a highly charged topic in contemporary policy and politics

The Translation of Children's Literature Gillian Lathey, 2006-01-01 In the last few decades a number of European scholars have paid an increasing amount of attention to children's literature in translation. This book not only provides a synthetic account of what has been achieved in the field but also makes us fully aware of all the textual, visual, and cultural complexities that translating for children entails. Students of this subject have had problems in finding a book that attempted an up-to-date and comprehensive review of the field. Gillian Lathey's Reader does just this. Dr Piotr Kuhiwczak, Director, Centre for Translation and Comparative Cultural Studies, University of Warwick.
