Various forms of academic co operation criss cross the modern university system in a bewildering number of ways from the open exchange of ideas and knowledge to the sharing of research results and frank discussions about research challenges Embedded in these scholarly networks is the question of whether a global template for the management of both higher education and national research organisations is necessary and if so must institutions slavishly follow the high flown language of the global knowledge society or risk falling behind in the ubiquitous university ranking system Or are there alternatives that can achieve a better more ethically inclined world Basing their observations on their own experiences an interesting mix of seasoned scholars and new voices from southern Africa and the Nordic region offer critical perspectives on issues of inter and cross regional academic co operation Several of the chapters also touch on the evolution of the higher education sector in the two regions An absorbing and intelligent study this book will be invaluable for anyone interested in the strategies scholars are using to adapt to the interconnectedness of the modern world It offers fresh insights into how academics are attempting to protect the spaces in which they can freely and openly debate the challenges they face while aiming to transform higher education and foster scholarly collaboration The Southern African Nordic Centre SANORD is a partnership of higher education institutions from Denmark Finland Iceland Norway Sweden Botswana Namibia Malawi South Africa Zambia and Zimbabwe SANORDs primary aim is to promote multilateral research co operation on matters of importance to the development of both regions Our activities are based on the values of democracy equity and mutually beneficial academic engagement

Hazelkorn,2011-03-08 University rankings have gained popularity around the world and are now a significant factor shaping reputation This book is the first comprehensive study of rankings from a global perspective making an important contribution to our understanding of the rankings phenomenon This book has also been published in Japanese     The Media and Communications in Australia Stuart Cunningham,2010-10 Traditional media are under assault from digital technologies Online advertising is eroding the financial basis of newspapers and television demarcations between different forms of media are fading and audiences are fragmenting We can podcast our favourite radio show data accompanies television programs and we catch up with newspaper stories on our laptops Yet mainstream media remain enormously powerful The Media and Communications in Australia offers a systematic introduction to this dynamic field Fully updated and revised to take account of recent developments this third edition outlines the key media industries and explains how communications technologies are impacting on them It provides a thorough overview of the main approaches taken in studying the media and includes new chapters on social media gaming telecommunications sport and cultural diversity With contributions from some of Australia's best researchers and teachers in the field The Media and Communications in Australia is the most comprehensive and reliable introduction to media and communications available It is an ideal student text and a reference for teachers of media and anyone interested in this influential industry     Gender Issues in Learning and Working with Information Technology: Social Constructs and Cultural Contexts Booth, Shirley,Goodman, Sara,Kirkup, Gill,2010-05-31 This book deals with four features of the burgeoning knowledge society gender equity learning and information technology with the focus on gender not in the taken for granted biological sense of sex but in the socially constituted sense of it Provided by publisher

Passing Oxbridge Admissions Tests Rosalie Hutton,Glenn Hutton,2008-08-22 Students applying to Oxbridge are increasingly required to sit Oxbridge specific admissions tests These are usually aptitude tests consisting of multiple choice questions focused on critical thinking and problem solving skills The most widely used is the Thinking Skills Assessment TSA This book introduces candidates to critical thinking and problem solving skills and their use in answering test questions It includes a practice test similar to the TSA with answers and explanations and also guidance on the TSA Writing Task undertaken by applicants to Oxford The book also refers to the tests for English History Physics Mathematics and Computer Sciences     The Times Good University Guide 2009 John O'Leary,2008-06 How do you find the best university for the subject you wish to study You need a guide that evaluates the quality of what is available giving facts figures and comparative assessments of universities Since 1992 The Times has produced the most widely respected and used university league tables This resource takes the key measures of quality as its focus so you can make informed choices on university and subjects Still unique and still controversial the rankings provide hard data analyzed interpreted and presented by a team of experts This edition of the best selling Good University Guide has been further extended and offers unique league table ranking to Britain's universities which enables readers to assess strengths and weaknesses of each university more than 60 tables giving the best universities for particular subjects advice on how to select a course and a university details of government changes to higher education guidance on how to apply and pay your way through university advice on finding and paying for accommodation while you are there two pages of information on each university detailed coverage of Oxford and Cambridge colleges and information specifically designed for international students      Quality in Higher Education

David Andrew Turner, 2012-01-01 The quality of higher education is a hot topic especially as students around the world are asked to pay more towards their own education and expect to get what they pay for In addition league tables both national and international have come to dominate discussion with several governments and many institutions setting themselves the goal of improving their ratings In this volume Professor Turner examines the assumptions that are being made about what counts as quality and what the traditional purposes of universities are But with the growth of mass higher education and the rise of student centred approaches to learning and teaching it has become increasingly clear that high quality education is education that meets the needs of the student at that particular moment and promotes their future development After examining a range of different approaches to the quality of higher education and its measurement Professor Turner develops an approach to benchmarking and quality enhancement that is better suited to the ethos of individualised learning and uses it to critique the philosophies that have dominated debates about quality to date This book will be of interest to scholars of higher education but also has something important to add to debates that engage policy makers in higher education It provides a background to the historical development of universities which might help postgraduate students and new members of faculty understand the process in which they are engaged      Internationalisation of African Higher Education

Chika Sehoole, Jane Knight, 2013-10-30 The role of higher education especially the international dimension is given little importance in the discourse on achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDGs in Africa This book aims to change that The potential of higher education's contribution to Africa's development remains unrealized and often misunderstood In today's globalised world which prioritises economic growth through liberalised trade and competitive market strategies much emphasis has been placed on higher education's ability to produce graduates to serve the labour market and produce new knowledge for the knowledge economy While these are important contributions the book argues that international higher education and new knowledge must go beyond economic purposes and serve the human and social development needs of the continent It is against this background that the African Network for the Internationalisation of Education ANIE undertook research on the international dimension of higher education in Africa and its role in the achievement of the MDGs Through empirical research seven case studies address how international and regional higher education programmes and policies in African universities can address MDG priorities of promoting gender equality and women's empowerment combating HIV AIDS and establishing global partnerships for development through academic mobility joint research initiatives curriculum innovation and policy development      Creating the Ethical Academy Tricia Bertram

Gallant,2011-09-22 In this edited volume higher education experts and scholars tackle the challenge of understanding why ethical misconduct occurs in the academy and how we can address it      Universities in Change Andreas Altmann,Bernd Ebersberger,2012-09-13 Universities find themselves in dynamic change They are confronted with growing expectations from their stakeholders increasing international competition and new technological challenges Featuring insights and in depth case studies from leading researchers and university decision makers from around the world this book argues that institutions of higher education in order to be successful have to actively reflect on circumstances visions and strategies to master the future Drawing from their experiences across a diverse array of institutions in Europe Asia and the Americas the authors explore the pressures on today s universities and the opportunities for excelling in the contest for resources They discuss operational issues such as strategic management IT governance leadership development and entrepreneurial culture and broader concerns such as the roles and responsibilities of universities in promoting technology transfer and economic and social development The result is a resource that not only reveals and analyzes universities from an organizational perspective but presents best practice models and concrete inspiration for management and policymaking      Digital Information Hazel M. Woodward,Lorraine Estelle,2010 If the vision for the future of digital information is order ease of access discoverable resources and sustainable business models how might this be achieved In an information environment shaped by an ever growing and persistent demand for more and more digital content from every direction it has become increasingly important that publishers libraries and information professionals understand the challenges and opportunities of the Google environment This book addresses these issues and carves out a strategy for the future of digital information Put together by an international cross sectoral team of contributors each authored chapter provides a snapshot of where we are now and considers how the barriers to success might be overcome and what the digital information environment might look like if these issues are or indeed are not addressed They include digital information an overview of the landscape scholarly communications the view from the library scholarly communications the publisher s view e books and scholarly communication futures digitizing the past next steps for public sector digitization resource discovery who owns the content in the digital environment Readership This book is essential reading for all library and information professionals as well as for researchers and library students The book will also be of interest to publishers wishing to reconcile their own digital strategies with those of both information consumers and providers      Human Resource Management in Indonesia Jenny S Lange,2010-06 Indonesia with over 240 million people and rich of natural resources and abundant human resources is very attractive for investors operating in wide array of industries Many reports on Human Resource Management HRM and the English journals have written about the developing countries in Europe Africa and Asia countries such as Hong Kong China and India but surprisingly writing on HRM issues in Indonesia has been rare and mainly limited to labor economics and macro level Human Resources Development Therefore this thesis intends to make a contribution to literatures of HRM issues in Indonesia with the example for German companies which are establishing their subsidiaries in Indonesia This book examines Human Resource Management Issues in Indonesia from environment context such as political economical socio cultural technological environmental and legal perspective PESTEL Analysis culture dimension difference between Indonesia and Germany and the current issues of managing human resources in Indonesia by firms especially for multinational companies such as issues of general condition of labors recruitment and selection process compensation appraisal performance management trade unions and gender Regarding HRM issues the study has also shown that foreign companies have many threats if they establish their subsidiaries in Indonesia But on the other hand Indonesia has some strengths and already improved some essential sectors that should be considered as opportunities for foreign companies such as abundance in labors rich natural resources good international relationships increasing foreign trades and FDI growing telecommunication development and starts improving national education and health As conclusion the HRM issues for foreign companies establishing a subsidiary in Indonesia are very complex especially due to environment aspects and culture dimension difference However through understanding culture dimension of Indonesian societies use the opportunities and minimize the risks managing people in Indonesia is not an impossible mission Universities as Engines of Economic Development Edward Crawley, John Hegarty, Kristina Edström, Juan Cristobal Garcia Sanchez, 2020-06-22 This book describes patterns of behavior that collectively allow universities to exchange knowledge more effectively with industry accelerate innovation and eventually contribute to economic development These are based on the effective practices of leading and ambitious universities around the world that the authors have benchmarked and the personal experiences of the authors in a number of international institution building projects including those of MIT The authors provide guidance that is globally applicable but must be locally adapted The approach is first to describe the context in which universities act as engines of economic development and then present a set of effective practices in four domains education research innovation and supporting practices Each of these domains has three to six practices and each practice is presented in a similar template with an abstract a rationale and description key actions and one or two mini case studies The practices are summarized by integrative case studies The book Focuses on a globally adaptable set of effective practices complemented by case studies that can enhance universities contribution to economic development based on an integrated view of education research and innovation Presents effective practices and broader insights that come from real global experience spelled out in templates and explained by cases Includes tangible resources for university leaders policy makers and funders on how to proceed

Handbook of Research on the Changing Role of College and University Leadership Miller, Michael T., Gearhart, G. David, 2021-06-04 Higher education has changed significantly over the past 50 years and the individuals who provide leadership for these institutions has similarly changed The pathway to the college presidency once the domain of academic administration has diversified as an increasing number of development officers student affairs and enrollment management professionals and even politicians have become common in the role. It is important to understand who the presidents are in the current environment and the challenges they face. Challenges such as dealing with the COVID 19 pandemic enrollment shortfalls Title IX and athletic scandals have risen to the forefront and have contributed to the issues and role of college and university leadership. The Handbook of Research on the Changing Role of College and University Leadership provides important research on the topic of college and university leadership especially focusing on the changing role of the college president. The chapters discuss college leadership as it is now and how it will evolve into the future. Topics included are the role of the president at various types of universities their involvement within university functions and activities and the duties they must carry out and challenges they face. This book is ideal for professionals and researchers working in higher education including faculty members who specialize in education public administration the social sciences and management along with teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners researchers academicians and students who are interested in college and university leadership and how this role is transforming.

The Sustainable University James Martin, 2012-03-14. Colleges and universities are at the forefront of efforts to preserve the earth's resources for future generations. Carbon neutrality renewable energy sources green building strategies and related initiatives require informed and courageous leaders at all levels of higher education. James Martin and James E Samels have worked closely with college and university presidents provosts and trustees to devise best practices that establish sustainable policies and programs in the major areas of institutional operations. While almost seven hundred chief executive officers have signed the American College and University Presidents Climate Commitment several thousand have yet to do so. This book identifies four of the most formidable challenges facing these presidents and leadership teams along with solutions to address them effectively: institutionalizing sustainability thinking developing an efficient flexible system of sustainability benchmarks implementing an accountable university budget model and engaging boards of trustees in the campus sustainability agenda. The volume's contributors including recognized authorities on sustainability as well as campus executives with broad ranging experience consider these challenges and discuss specific action plans best practices and emerging trends in sustainability efforts. They offer sustainability solutions for almost every major operational area of campus and consider what sustainability means for colleges and universities and the legacy of those entrusted with shaping their future. The meaning of sustainability is evolving and it differs from one campus to the next. This timely and comprehensive volume guides institutional leaders past the myths and misconceptions to the sustainable university.
