Jonathan D Jansen

University Of Polokwane Application Form:

Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly

The Burden of Educational Exclusion, 2010-01-01 School was nothing but a taboo for me concludes Johannah a young South African after recounting her life story Johannah is one of the early school leavers who features in this book Figures on participation in education in Africa show that despite government agreements and policies developed under the banner of Education for All this remains a remote goal In several countries programmes on Universal Primary Education have improved access to education but do those who enter school remain there until they have reached a suitable level Do they acquire enough competences at primary and secondary school to survive the tough daily life in sub Saharan countries What happens to children and young adults who leave school early What measures can be taken to prevent them from doing so This book is based on research carried out in Eastern and Southern Africa by scholars from Africa and the Netherlands who cooperated within the framework of the ESLA project The contributions to this book reflect the exchanges and discussions which took place in this research group initiated by staff of Mzumbe University in Tanzania Uganda Martyrs University and the University of Groningen in the Netherlands The group aims to go beyond figures and uncover the causes effects and stories of the young people involved as well as explore promising new strategies with which to address their needs As early school leaving is not exclusively an African problem a contribution on the Dutch situation is also included The book concludes that exclusion from education has far reaching effects not only for the young people involved but also for the society in which they live The burden of educational exclusion should be the joint responsibility of developing and developed countries The authors hope the book will contribute not only to a greater understanding of the phenomenon of early school leaving but also challenge it in terms of developing policies and programmes that can prevent educational exclusion and support those who already find themselves in such a situation      XXX International Congress of Psychology: Abstracts Michele Robert,2017-10-03 The abstracts of the XXX International Congress of Psychology July 2012 Cape Town are published as a supplement to Volume 47 of the International Journal of Psychology The published volume includes the abstracts of the invited addresses symposia oral and poster presentations numbering over 5 000 separate contributions and creating an invaluable overview of the discipline of psychological science around the world today      Animal Husbandry - Beliefs, Facts and Reality ,2025-05-28 This volume summarizes in 14 chapters the changing world of animal husbandry The findings present the reality and facts of animal husbandry attempting to dispel the myths circulating about this field Animal husbandry regulation provides the necessary framework for operation and development which is closely related to changing human needs New opportunities are always needed to achieve planned development goals Nutrition and the environment are closely related and influence the production method The utilization of forest areas and extensive regions in animal production is not only a past practice but also a present reality influencing the future of our environment The resilience and adaptation of animals and farms to the changing conditions play a fundamental role in maintaining sustainable animal husbandry

Nematology in South Africa: A View from the 21st Century Hendrika Fourie,Vaughan W. Spaull,Robin K. Jones,Mieke S. Daneel,Dirk De Waele,2017-02-28 This unique book contains not only a comprehensive up to date summary of the achievements made in all areas of Nematology in South Africa over more than half a century but it also combines this rather technical part with an insiders narrative of how Nematology started and developed It also demonstrates how the South African community of nematologists gradually adapted to major changes in agriculture These were due to a major political shift followed by socio economic changes and this in an often challenging natural environment At the same time this book is conceived as a useful source for young scientists to provide them with practical knowledge and critical insight in the field of Nematology The information given is based primarily on research conducted by nematologists in South Africa Most of this research was aimed at finding workable solutions for nematological problems confronted by both large scale commercial producers and smallholding farmers During a period when funding for scientific research is becoming increasingly scarce the future demand and quest for practical solutions by applied research will only increase      Political Science in South Africa Peter Vale,Pieter Fourie,2016-01-13 In 2013 and in 2014 respectively the South African Association of Political Studies SAAPS and Politikon the South African Journal of Political Studies celebrate their 40th anniversary Also in April 2014 South Africa celebrates twenty years since the advent of the post Apartheid democracy and the birth of the rainbow nation

This book provides a timely account of the birth and evolution of South African politics over the past four decades but also of the study of Political Science and International Relations in this country. Fourteen political scientists contribute chapters to this volume situating the study of politics within its global context and recounting the development of politics as a field of study at South African universities. The fourteen contributions evaluate the state of the disciplines and suggest conclusions that are surprising and in many instances unsettling not only with regards to what and how politics is taught but also how its study has variously gained and lost pertinence for South Africans understanding of their own polity as well as its place in the world. The implications are uncomfortable and pose interesting challenges for South African scholarship pedagogy and national self reflection. This book was published as a special issue of Politikon.

A composite index of quality of life for the Gauteng city-region: a principal component analysis approach Talita Greyling, The improvement of the quality of life of all South Africans is high on the agenda at national The National Planning Commission 2012 and regional levels of government The Gauteng Planning Commission 2012 and it is therefore important to develop an instrument that can measure this multi dimensional concept. The need therefore exists for a composite index of quality of life with the ability to both track the quality of life of people over time and compare it across different demographic and socio economic groups. Such a measure could identify those demographic and socio economic groups with low levels of quality of life and also highlight dimensions that need to be prioritised in order to improve the wellbeing of people. In South Africa there are a limited number of quality of life indices and measures of wellbeing. Indices that measure wellbeing nationally include the Quality of Life Index of Moller and Schlemmer 1983 the Living Standard Measure LSM Index produced by the South African Audience Research Foundation SAARF 2013 the South African Development Index of the South African Institute of Race Relations 2011 and the Everyday Quality of Life Index Higgs 2007. The following indices measure wellbeing at a regional level the Quality of Metropolitan City Life in South Africa Index Naude et al 2009 the Non Economic Quality of Life Index at Sub National Levels Rossouw Naude 2008 and the Quality of Life Index of the Gauteng City Region Observatory GCRO 2011. Although these quality of life indices make distinctive contributions to the study field the focus of these studies is often to measure only objective or subjective quality of life or only economic or non economic quality of life rather than all of the above. Furthermore many of the indices use equal weighting which does not necessarily reflect the priorities of the communities.

Emerging Infectious Diseases ,2007      Koedoe ,2005      The Government of Chronic Poverty Sam

Hickey,2013-10-31 What are the underlying causes of chronic poverty? Can development beyond neoliberalism offer the strategies required to challenge such persistent forms of poverty particularly through efforts to promote citizenship amongst poor people? Drawing on case study evidence from Africa Latin America and South Asia the contributions critically examine different attempts to govern chronic poverty via the promotion of particular forms and notions of citizenship with a specific focus on the role of community based approaches social policy and social movements. Poverty is seen here as deriving from underlying patterns of uneven development involving processes of capitalism and state formation that foster inequality generating mechanisms and particularly disadvantaged social categories Sceptics tend to deride the emphasis under current inclusive forms of Liberalism on tackling poverty through the promotion of citizenship as inevitably depoliticising and disempowering for poor people and our cases do suggest that citizenship based strategies rarely alter the underlying basis of poverty However our evidence also offers some support to those optimists who suggest that progressive moves towards poverty reduction and citizenship formation have become more rather than less likely at the current juncture The promotion of citizenship emerges here as a significant but incomplete effort to challenge poverty that persists over time This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies

The Economist, 2005

From Technology Transfer to Intercultural Development

S. Strijbos, Jan van der Stoep, 2012-02-01 The idea for this book has been born in a dialogue between the authors of In Search of an Integrative Vision for Technology 2006 and a group of scholars and practitioners from South Africa whose research and development activities focuses on problems of traditional African society and culture Although there existed awareness in the writing of the earlier book that the search for normativity for our technological society should encompass the different cultural spheres of the world no attention has been paid to the problem of interculturality Focussing on the development of technology in the developed societies the emphasis was laid on finding a basis for interdisciplinarity bridging the gaps between the sciences and humanities as well as between theory and practice According to the vision that has been elaborated on in the above book not the autonomous dynamics of technology as a free flying projectile should determine the future of our global world but guidance has to be provided by a normative perspective on technology for the common good of all people and cultures Following further this line of research the current book aims to address explicitly the intercultural dimension of technology in our globalising world
