Pluralism: The Future of Religion Kenneth Rose,2013-03-28 Theology of religions has defaulted in the last two decades to an epicyclic inclusivism which seeks to undermine pluralism with claims that it is covertly triumphalistic and that it mirrors the logic of exclusivism With the exception of pioneers in the field such as John Hick and Paul Knitter most major figures in this theological field have retreated from pluralism and promote versions of particularism and inclusivism Pluralism The Future of Religion argues for an apophatic pluralism that is motivated by the insight that it is impossible to secure universal assent for changeable bodies of religious teachings This insight implies the non finality and consequent departicularization of all religious teachings and their inclusivistic defenses These conclusions point us inevitably toward pluralism and lead us out of the inclusivistic impasse of contemporary theology in religions
