Brookhart, Jan Chappuis, 2021-04-21 Of all school related factors that influence student learning only classroom instruction has greater impact than leadership And leaders have the greatest impact when they set direction citing that the goals and purpose they provide serves to strengthen and solidify the faculty The ten competencies for school leaders described in this book are based on a few factors First standards driven reform has created new knowledge requirements and responsibilities for school leaders In today s systems sorting students along a bell curve and artificially creating winners and losers has been replaced by a mission that all students must learn well Instead of a curriculum focused on what a teacher should teach the curriculum identifies what students must know and be able to do These standards are public and communicate what a state or district values when it comes to student learning Assessing the standards day to day not through large scale accountability tests or even local short cycle or common assessments is a requirement for effective standards based reform Second is the reward of improved student learning brought about by the use of classroom assessment for learning Assessment for learning has implications not just for school leaders but also for broader educational practice The research is conclusive and improved learning lies within the grasp of anyone wishing to apply it What does it look like when school leaders demonstrate mastery of the Ten Assessment Competencies Included in the book are examples learning activities and opportunities for practice as well as success indicators for each competency as leaders work toward mastery Los Angeles School Journal ,1923

Learning in Two Languages Gary Imhoff,1990-01-01 After being off the public agenda for a decade the subject of bilingual education is once again at the center of public debate Assumptions about the values of cultural pluralism and the rise of the unmeltable ethnics so dominant for the last twenty years have met a renewed public affirmation of the value of assimilation In the United States bilingual education refers to programs that emphasize students home languages and culture teach academic subject matter in students home languages and introduce English into the curriculum at a deliberate pace Students in such programs are generally members of immigrant groups and racial and ethnic minorities and they usually come from lower class economic backgrounds Over the years a number of different objectives have been advanced for bilingual education programs In the 1960s and early 1970s educators believed that these programs should be evaluated by students linguistic proficiency and progress on standardized tests More recently advocates have promoted more subjective measures such as students enhanced sense of well being and self esteem And yet others argue that the real goals of bilingual education should be social change and economic redistribution and that programs should be evaluated by these long range goals The conference that gave rise to the essays in this volume was the first national symposium at which advocates and critics of bilingual education confronted each other s arguments face to face These essays address the objectives by which bilingual education should be evaluated the administrative practices by which programs are run and the latest research findings on the effectiveness of bilingual education Authors include Henry Trueba Rudolph Troike James Banks Joshua Fishman and Christine Rossell Learning in Two Languages will interest educators and policy researchers students of ethnic relations and others concerned about the future direction of U S educational policies in this controversial area Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress,1968 Research in Education ,1974 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
