The Mind's Eye Oliver Sacks, 2010-10-26 NATIONAL BESTSELLER From the poet laureate of medicine The New York Times and the author of the classic The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat comes a fascinating exploration of the remarkable unpredictable ways that our brains cope with the loss of sight by finding rich new forms of perception Elaborate and gorgeously detailed Again and again Sacks invites readers to imagine their way into minds unlike their own encouraging a radical form of empathy Los Angeles Times With compassion and insight Dr Oliver Sacks again illuminates the mysteries of the brain by introducing us to some remarkable characters including Pat who remains a vivacious communicator despite the stroke that deprives her of speech and Howard a novelist who loses the ability to read Sacks investigates those who can see perfectly well but are unable to recognize faces even those of their own children He describes totally blind people who navigate by touch and smell and others who ironically become hyper visual Finally he recounts his own battle with an eye tumor and the strange visual symptoms it caused As he has done in classics like The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat and Awakenings Dr Sacks shows us that medicine is both an art and a science and that our ability to imagine what it is to see with another person's mind is what makes us truly human Practical Pharmacology in Rehabilitation Lynette Carl, Joseph Gallo, Peter Johnson, 2014 Practical Pharmacology in Rehabilitation discusses the effects of medications in the rehabilitation process and assists rehabilitation professionals in designing patient specific therapy plans based on coexisting disease states and medications used Singing For Life Gregory Barz, 2014-06-17 Efforts within the past decade to address the HIV AIDS pandemic in sub Saharan Africa have dealt with HIV AIDS principally as a medical concern despite the fact that doctors continue to be confronted with the complex relationship of the disease to broader social issues When medical and governmental institutions fail artists step in Contemporary performances in Uganda often focus on gender and health related issues specific to women and youths in which song texts warn against risky sexual environments or unprotected sexual behavior Music dance and drama are principal tools of local initiatives that disseminate information mobilize resources and raise societal consciousness regarding issues related to HIV AIDS Through case studies song texts interviews and testimonies Singing for Life HIV AIDS and Music in Uganda examines the links between the decline in Uganda's infection rate and grassroots efforts that make use of music dance and drama Only when supported and encouraged by such performances drawing on localized musical traditions have medical initiatives taken root and flourished in local healthcare systems Gregory Barz shows how music can be both a mode of promoting health and a force for personal therapy presenting a cultural analysis of hope and healing The Plague Years Michael Titlestad, Karl van Wyk, Grace A. Musila, 2022-08-15 The Plague Years collects scholarly and essayistic reflections on literary visual and sonic representations of the COVID 19 and other pandemics These are placed alongside poetry and short fiction written in the first two years of quarantine or isolation This range expresses the intellectual and imaginative struggle and ingenuity entailed in coming to terms with the rampant spread of disease and its emotional cultural and political consequences The contributions are from diverse contexts Africa from Egypt to South Africa China Japan the US and Scandinavia They consider some of the array of contemporary engagements poems translated from Mandarin about the traumas of the frontline Chinese calligraphic poetry printed on cartons of PPE comments on the literary history of representing epidemics and pandemics political analyses of the post truth present and the role of life writing and gaming in an interrupted world Given the generative and creative obliquity of many of its parts this collection shifts how one thinks about the diseased present and the archival pasts on which it draws The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of English Studies in Africa Mnemonology James B. Worthen, R. Reed Hunt, 2011-02-25 This book bridges the gap between basic memory research and mnemonic applications through a careful analysis of the processes that underlie effective memory aids The book traces the history of mnemonics examines popular techniques and discusses the current relevance of mnemonics to both psychological researchers and those seeking to improve their memory Using a unique approach termed mnemonology the authors seek not necessarily to promote specific mnemonic techniques but to provide information which will allow one to improve memory by creating their own mnemonics

The Oxford Handbook of Medical Ethnomusicology Benjamin Koen, 2011-04-27 This volume establishes the discipline of medical ethnomusicology and expresses its broad potential It also is an expression of a wider paradigm shift of innovative thinking and collaboration that fully embraces both the health sciences and the healing arts The Man Who Forgot How to Read Howard Engel, 2008-07-08 The remarkable journey of an award winning writer struck with a rare and devastating affliction that prevented him from reading even his own writing One hot midsummer morning novelist Howard Engel picked up his newspaper from his front step and discovered he could no longer read it The letters had mysteriously jumbled themselves into something that looked like Cyrillic one moment and Korean the next While he slept Engel had experienced a stroke and now suffered from a rare condition called alexia sine agraphia meaning that while he could still write he could no longer read Over the next several weeks in hospital and in rehabilitation Engel discovered that much more was affected than his ability to read His memory failed him and even the names of old friends escaped his tongue At first geography eluded him he would know that two streets met somewhere in the city but he couldn't imagine where Apples and grapefruit now looked the same When he returned home he had trouble remembering where things went and would routinely find cans of tuna in the dishwasher and jars of pencils in the freezer Despite his disabilities Engel prepared to face his dilemma He contacted renowned neurologist Dr Oliver Sacks for advice and visited him in New York City forging a lasting friendship He bravely learned to read again And in the face of tremendous obstacles he triumphed in writing a new novel An absorbing and uplifting story filled with sly wit and candid insights The Man Who Forgot How to Read will appeal to anyone fascinated by the mysteries of the mind on and off the page Taking Away the Distance Miles Roston,2009-04-20 In this emotional story of hope and inspiration an African boy orphaned by AIDS becomes a catalyst for AIDS orphans worldwide Living in a shantytown in Kenya Kevin Sumba s life was one of loneliness and hardship Yet he was determined to get an education Miles Roston a documentary filmmaker first met Kevin while making a film on AIDS orphans He found that this particular boy touched his heart in a way he hadn t anticipated Together they set out to answer Kevin s Questions about the AIDS epidemic and more specifically Kevin s situation Taking Away the Distance takes us on a singular journey as powerful policymakers and those working at a grassroots level deal with the direct and at times confronting questions of one boy Along the way we also meet people directly impacted by the epidemic and face their lives heroically from children surviving homelessness on Nairobi s streets to a mother on her deathbed whose only thought is how to care for the children she will leave behind As Kevin and Roston form a bond of love and respect each learning from the other we discover just how much our own lives can change if we dare to help The Pleasures of Reading Catherine Sheldrick Ross,2014-06-27 Based on years of ground breaking research this book supplies a look at the unique relationship between each text and the individual reader that results in a satisfying pleasurable and even life changing reading experience Following up on her critically acclaimed Reading Matters What the Research Reveals about Reading Libraries and Community Catherine Sheldrick Ross takes a new look at pleasure reading through 30 thought provoking essays based on themes arranged from A to Z In short lively chapters she discusses topics ranging from Alexia Bad Reading and Changing Lives to Romance Fiction Self help Titles Vampires and Year of Reading Drawing on her own research as well as other published sources Ross comments on the significance of each theme provides examples of the phenomenon and develops the topic chronologically through further examples or through reversals The essays are unified by an underlying theory of reading that views readers as sense makers actively engaged in reading themselves into the text and reading the texts back into their own lives It gives educators and librarians insights into their roles with readers and offers a message about the importance of pleasure reading A short list of resources for further reading is supplied with each topic Spirituality and Ageing Albert Jewell,1999 Spirituality and Ageing presents the experience of ageing as an opportunity for spiritual reflection and affirmation of life The contributors are religious and spiritual leaders and ethical thinkers from a range of different backgrounds They define spirituality not just as a religious concept but as the fulfilment of the universal human need for purpose values and relationships a sense of wholeness in life This spiritual dimension helps people face the emotional and psychological challenges of growing older such as memory loss dementia bereavement and fear of death Existing systems of social care often focus on the material and physical needs of older people this collection proposes that the spiritual needs of older people are as vital a consideration for their welfare

Through their spirituality older people can attain a fuller appreciation and understanding of life which can also inform and enrich the lives of others Spirituality and Ageing will be an invaluable resource to carers looking for a holistic and more reflective approach to work with older people
