Books in Motion Mireia Aragay, 2005 Books in Motion addresses the hybrid interstitial field of film adaptation The introductory essay integrates a retrospective survey of the development of adaptation studies with a forceful argument about their centrality to any history of culture any discussion that is of the transformation and transmission of texts and meanings in and across cultures The thirteen especially composed essays that follow organised into four sections headed Paradoxes of Fidelity Authors Auteurs Adaptation Contexts Intertexts Adaptation and Beyond Adaptation variously illustrate that claim by problematising the notion of fidelity highlighting the role played by adaptation in relation to changing concepts of authorship and auteurism exploring the extent to which the intelligibility of film adaptations is dependent on contextual and intertextual factors and making a claim for the need to transcend any narrowly defined concept of adaptation in the study of adaptation Discussion ranges from adaptations of established classics like A Tale of Two Cities Frankenstein Henry V Le temps retrouvé Mansfield Park Pride and Prejudice The Dead or Wuthering Heights to contemporary popular texts films like Bridget Jones's Diary Fools The Governess High Fidelity The Hours The Orchid Thief Adaptation the work of Doris D rrie the first Harry Potter novel film or the adaptations made by Alfred Hitchcock Stanley Kubrick and Walt Disney This book will

The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman David LaRocca, 2011-05-27 From the Academy Award winning Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind 2004 and Academy Award nominated Adaptation 2002 to the cult classic Being John Malkovich 1999 writer Charlie Kaufman is widely admired for his innovative philosophically resonant films Although he only recently made his directorial debut with Synecdoche New York 2008 most fans and critics refer to Kaufman films the way they would otherwise discuss works by directors Woody Allen Martin Scorsese or the Coen brothers Not only has Kaufman transformed our sense of what can take place in a film but he also has made a significant impact on our understanding of the role of the screenwriter The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman edited by David LaRocca is the first collection of essays devoted to a rigorous philosophical exploration of Kaufman's work by a team of capable and critical scholars from a wide range of disciplines From political theorists to philosophers classicists to theologians professors of literature to filmmakers the contributing authors delve into the heart of Kaufman's innovative screenplays offering not only original philosophical analyses but also extended reflections on the nature of film and film criticism

Narrative Theory and Adaptation. Jason Mittell, 2017-04-20 Narrative Theory and Adaptation offers a concise introduction to narrative theory in jargon free language and shows how this theory can be deployed to interpret Spike Jonze's critically acclaimed 2002 film Adaptation Understanding narrative theory is crucial to make sense of the award winning film Adaptation The book explicates in clear prose for beginners four key facets important to the narrative theory of film the distinction between practical vs critical theory the role of adaptation the process of narrative comprehension and notions of authorship It then works to unlock Adaptation using these four keys in succession considering how the film demands a theoretical understanding of the storytelling process In using this unusual case study of a film the author makes the case for the importance of narrative theory as a general perspective for filmmakers critics and viewers alike

Authorship in Film Adaptation Jack Boozer, 2009-06-03 Authoring a film adaptation of a literary source not only requires a media conversion but also a transformation as a result of the differing dramatic demands of cinema The most critical central step in this transformation of a literary source to the screen is the writing of the screenplay The screenplay usually serves to recruit producers director and actors to attract capital investment and to give focus to the conception and production of the film project Often undergoing multiple revisions prior to production the screenplay represents the crucial decisions of writer and director that will determine how and to what end the film will imitate or depart from its original source Authorship in Film Adaptation is an accessible provocative text that opens up new areas of discussion on the central process of adaptation surrounding the screenplay and screenwriter director collaboration In contrast to narrow binary comparisons of literary source text and film the twelve essays in this collection also give attention to the underappreciated role of the screenplay and film pre production that can signal the primary intention for a film Divided into four parts this collection looks first at the role of Hollywood's activist producers and major auteurs such as Hitchcock and Kubrick as they worked with screenwriters to formulate their audio visual goals The second part offers case studies of Devil in a Blue Dress and The Sweet Hereafter for which the directors wrote their own adapted screenplays Considering the variety of writer director working relationships that are possible Part III focuses on adaptations that alter genre time and place and Part IV investigates adaptations that alter stories of romance sexuality and ethnicity

Who Wrote That Movie? Chris Wehner, 2003 Before the director or actors can work their magic onscreen a writer often working alone faces the blank page and must be the first to create the magic Yet the writer is usually ignored by critics eager to give credit to the director or sometimes an actor Not only that the original vision of the screenwriter rarely makes it to the screen intact Imagine if your favorite movie could have even been better had that image conscious actress not demanded changes to the script The screenplays and movies discussed include A Beautiful Mind Adaptation Almost Famous Ararat Black Hawk Down Blade 2 Cast Away Catch Me if You Can City by the Sea The Cell Dancer in the Dark Far From Heaven Frailty The Gift Gladiator John Q Insomnia In the Bedroom Memento MIB2 Minority Report Monster's Ball Ocean's Eleven Panic Room Pay it Forward Pearl Harbor Proof of Life Road to Perdition Signs Spy Game We Were Soldiers Windtalkers Traffic Unbreakable

The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Werner Wolf, 2011-01-01 One possible description of the contemporary medial landscape in Western culture is that it has gone meta to an unprecedented extent so that a remarkable meta culture has emerged Indeed metareference i e self reflexive comments on or references to various kinds of media related aspects of a given medial artefact or performance specific media and arts or the media in general is omnipresent and can nowadays be encountered in high art and literature as frequently as in their popular counterparts in the traditional media as well as in new media From the Simpsons pop music children s literature computer games and pornography to the contemporary visual arts feature film postmodern fiction drama and even architecture everywhere one can find metareferential explorations comments on or criticism of representation medial conventions or modes of production and reception and related issues Within individual media and genres notably in research on postmodernist metafiction this outspoken tendency towards metaization is known well enough and various reasons have been given for it Yet never has there been an attempt to account for what one may aptly term the current metareferential turn on a larger transmedial scale This is what The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Forms Functions Attempts at Explanation undertakes to do as a sequel to its predecessor the volume Metareference across Media vol 4 in the series Studies in Intermediality which was dedicated to theoretical issues and transhistorical case studies Coming from diverse disciplinary and methodological backgrounds the contributors to the present volume propose explanations of impressive subtlety breadth and depth for the current situation in addition to exploring individual forms and functions of metareference which may be linked with particular explanations As expected there is no monocausal reason to be found for the situation under scrutiny yet the proposals made have in their compination a remarkable explanatory power which contributes to a better understanding of an important facet of current media production and reception The essays assembled in the volume which also contains an introduction with a detailed survey over the possibilities of accounting for the metareferential turn will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields cultural history at large intermediality and media studies as well as more particularly literary studies music film and art history
