The Printing Art Sample Book, 1908 Sweatshop Strife Ruth A. Frager, 1992-01-01 In the first half of the twentieth century many of Toronto's immigrant Jews eked out a living in the needle trade sweatshops of Spadina Avenue. In response to their exploitation on the shop floor, immigrant Jewish garment workers built one of the most advanced sections of the Canadian and American labour movements. Much more than a collective bargaining agency, Toronto's Jewish labour movement had a distinctly socialist orientation and grew out of a vibrant Jewish working class culture. Ruth Frager examines the development of this unique movement, its sources of strength and its limitations, focusing particularly on the complex interplay of class, ethnic and gender interests and identities in the history of the movement. She examines the relationships between Jewish workers and Jewish manufacturers, as well as relations between Jewish and non-Jewish workers and male and female workers in the city's clothing industry. In its prime, Toronto's Jewish labour movement struggled not only to improve hard sweatshop conditions but also to bring about a fundamental socialist transformation. It was an uphill battle. Drastic economic downturns, hard employer offensives and state repressions all worked against unionists' workplace demands. Ethnic, gender and ideological divisions weakened the movement and were manipulated by employers and their allies. Drawing on her knowledge of Yiddish, Frager has been able to gain access to original records that shed new light on an important chapter in Canadian ethnic labour and women's history.

Wisconsin Journal of Education, 1897 A Dublin Magdalene Laundry Mark Coen, Katherine O'Donnell, Maeve O'Rourke, 2023-01-26 Towards the end of the 20th century the decades of abuse and neglect perpetrated in Ireland's comprehensive carceral network began finally to be exposed. The mistreatment endured by children and others on the margins of Irish society, notably women in these orphanages, reformatory schools, industrial schools, psychiatric hospitals, County Homes, Mother and Baby Homes, adoption agencies and Magdalene Laundries, now attracts increasing investigation and scholarship. Bringing together contributions from leading experts across a broad range of disciplines, including history, philosophy, law, archaeology, criminology, accounting and architecture, this book offers a comprehensive exploration of the Magdalene system through a close study of Donnybrook Magdalene Laundry in Dublin. To date, the Justice for Magdalenes Research group has recorded the names of 315 women and girls who died at Donnybrook Magdalene Laundry. By focusing on this one institution, on its ethos, development, operation and built environment and the lives of the girls and women held there, this book reveals the underlying framework of Ireland's wider system of institutionalisation. The analysis includes a focus on the privatisation and commodification of public welfare, reproductive injustice, institutionalised misogyny, class prejudice, the visibility of supposedly hidden institutions and the role of oral testimony in reconstructing history In undertaking such a close study the authors uncover truths missing from the state s own investigations shed new light on how these brutal institutions came to have such a powerful presence in Irish society and highlight the significance of their continuing impact on modern Ireland Jewish Immigrant Associations and American Identity in New York, 1880-1939 Daniel Soyer,2018-02-05 Study of a vital immigrant institution and the formation of American ethnic identity Landsmanshaftn associations of immigrants from the same hometown became the most popular form of organization among Eastern European Jewish immigrants to the United States in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Jewish Immigrant Associations and American Identity in New York 1880 1939 by Daniel Soyer holds an in depth discussion on the importance of these hometown societies that provided members with valuable material benefits and served as arenas for formal and informal social interaction In addition to discussing both continuity and transformation as features of the immigrant experience this approach recognizes that ethnic identity is a socially constructed and malleable phenomenon Soyer explores this process of construction by raising more specific questions about what immigrants themselves have meant by Americanization and how their hometown associations played an important part in the process What to Say and how to Say it David Belson,1993 A guide to making speeches appropriate for various occasions illustrates special techniques and approaches British Medical Journal ,1916 created a beauty contest the Cherry Blossom Festival CBF Queen Pageant which quickly became an annual spectacle for the growing urban population of Honolulu Crowning the Nice Girl analyzes the pageant through its decades of development to the present within multiple frameworks of gender class and race ethnicity Drawing on extensive archival research interviews with CBF queens contestants and organizers and participant observation in the Fiftieth Annual Festival as a volunteer Christine Yano paints a complex portrait of not only a beauty pageant but also a community The study begins with the subject of beauty pageants in general and Asian American beauty pageants in particular interrogating the issues they raise embedding them within their histories and examining them as part of a global culture that has taken its model from the Miss America contest Yano follows the pageant throughout the decades into the 1990s adding corresponding herstories extensive narratives drawn from interviews with CBF queens She concludes by framing issues of race ethnicity spectacle and community within the intertwined themes of niceness and banality From Kai to Kiwi Kitchen Helen M. Journal of Maine ,1901 Consumed Nostalgia Gary Cross,2015-09-08 Nostalgia isn t what it used to be For many of us modern memory is shaped less by a longing for the social customs and practices of the past or for family heirlooms handed down over generations and more by childhood encounters with ephemeral commercial goods and fleeting media moments in our age of fast capitalism This phenomenon has given rise to communities of nostalgia whose members remain loyal to the toys television and music of their youth They return to the theme parks and pastimes of their upbringing hoping to reclaim that feeling of childhood wonder or teenage freedom Consumed nostalgia took definite shape in the 1970s spurred by an increase in the turnover of consumer goods the commercialization of childhood and the skillful marketing of nostalgia Gary Cross immerses readers in this fascinating and often delightful history unpacking the cultural dynamics that turn pop tunes into oldies and childhood toys into valuable commodities He compares the limited appeal of heritage sites such as Colonial Williamsburg to the perpetually attractive power of a Disney theme park and reveals how consumed nostalgia shapes how we cope with accelerating change Today nostalgia can be owned collected and easily accessed making it less elusive and often more fun than in the past but its commercialization has sometimes limited memory and complicated the positive goals of recollection By unmasking the fascinating idiosyncratic character of modern nostalgia Cross helps us better understand the rituals of recall in an age of fast capitalism The Studio ,1917 Punch Henry Mayhew,Mark Lemon,Tom Taylor,Shirley Brooks,Francis Cowley Burnand,Owen Seaman,1916 The Western Dental Journal ,1900
