

"Capa's work is itself the picture of a great heart and an overwhelming compassion. . . . He could photograph motion and gaiety and heart-break. He could photograph thought. He captured a world."

— JOHN SEYMOUR

In paperback for the first time, Magically Out of Focus is the classic World War II documentary work of the most gifted photographers who ever lived. Robert Capa arrived in Europe on a photojournalism assignment in 1941, and for the next four years he traveled throughout the embattled continent, documenting the war from the perspective of the men and women of the Allied Forces who befriended, inspired, and captivated him along the way. His photographs are numerous, and his writing is by turns intensely funny and deeply moving. This edition includes more than one hundred photographs, notably Capa's defining images of the Normandy landing, Charnoy and profound. Magically Out of Focus is a masterpiece of words and photographs.

Robert Capa was born in Budapest in 1913. As a young man he photographed the Spanish Civil War and established his reputation as one of the greatest war photojournalists in history. On May 21, 1954, Capa was the first American reporter to die in what would become the Vietnam War.

Corinne Capa is Robert Capa's younger brother. A distinguished photojournalist, he founded the International Center of Photography in New York City in 1974.

Richard Wright is the author of Robert Capa: A Biography. Together with Corinne Capa, he has edited several books of Robert Capa's photographs.

The Last 100 Days John Toland, 2014-11-26 A dramatic countdown of the final months of World War II in Europe. The Last 100 Days brings to life the waning power and the ultimate submission of the Third Reich. To reconstruct the tumultuous hundred days between Yalta and the fall of Berlin, John Toland traveled more than 100,000 miles in twenty-one countries and interviewed more than six hundred people, from Hitler's personal chauffeur to Generals von Manteuffel, Wenck, and Heinrici, from underground leaders to diplomats, from top Allied field commanders to brave young GIs. Toland adeptly weaves together these interviews using research from thousands of primary sources. When it was first published, The Last 100 Days made history revealing after-action reports, staff journals, and top-secret messages and personal documents previously unavailable to historians. Since that time, it has come to be regarded as one of the greatest historical narratives of the twentieth century.

The Rising Sun John Toland, 2014-11-26 The Rising Sun is quite possibly the most readable yet informative account of the Pacific war. Chicago Sun Times: This Pulitzer Prize-winning history of World War II chronicles the dramatic rise and fall of the Japanese empire, from the invasion of Manchuria and China to the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Told from the Japanese perspective, The Rising Sun is, in the author's words, a factual saga of people caught up in the flood of the most overwhelming war of mankind, told as it happened: muddled, ennobling, disgraceful, frustrating, full of paradox. In weaving together the historical facts and human drama leading up to and culminating in the war in the Pacific, Toland crafts a riveting and unbiased narrative history. In his Foreword, Toland says that if we are to draw any conclusion from The Rising Sun, it is that there are no simple lessons in history; that it is human nature that repeats itself, not history. Unbelievably rich, readable, and exciting. The best parts of Toland's book are not the battle scenes but the intimate view he gives of the highest reaches of Tokyo politics. Newsweek.

The Routledge Companion to Photography and Visual Culture Moritz Neumüller, 2018-09-21 The Routledge Companion to Photography and Visual Culture is a seminal reference source for the ever-changing field of photography. Comprising an impressive range of essays and interviews by experts and scholars from across the globe, this book examines the medium's history, its central issues, and emerging trends, and its much-discussed future. The collected essays and interviews explore the current debates surrounding the photograph as object, art, document, propaganda, truth-selling tool, and universal language; the perception of photography; archives as burdens rather than treasures; the continual technological development reshaping the field; photography as a tool of representation and control; and more. One of the most comprehensive volumes of its kind, this companion is essential reading for photographers and historians alike.

The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield, 2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance, Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers. Instead, she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust China's Cultural Revolution and recent terrorist acts Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals In the book's concluding section she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa James Nachtwey and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare A bracing and unsettling book The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look
