Key Notes and Formulae

Principles of Inheritance and Variation

Variation

It is the degree by which progeny differ from their parents.

Mendel's Laws of Inheritance

Mendel conducted such artificial pollination/cross pollination experiments using several true breeding pea lines.

Genotype and Phenotype

Which refers to the genetic constitution of an individual; a single gene pair or sum total of all the genes. Phenotype refers to observable traits or characters that result from expression of genes.

First hybrid generation

Mendel collected the seeds produced as a result of crossing of tall and dwarf pea plants and grew them to generate plants of the first hybrid generation. This generation is also called the 1st Filial progeny or the F₁ generation.

Second hybrid generation

In this, some of the plants were dwarf. The char-

Law of segregation

This law states that during gamete formation, the two factors for a character present in an individual will separate and segregate with each other.

Law of independent assortment

This states that when more than one pair of characters are involved in a cross, factor pairs assort independent of each other.

Codominance

In which two alleles express themselves independently when present in an organism. e.g., ABO blood group in humans. Recombination is the generation of non-parental gene combinations.

Molecular Basis of Inheritance

Nucleic acids

Nucleic acids are long polymers of nucleotides. Two types of nucleic acids are RNA and DNA. DNA acts as the genetic material in most of the organisms. A nucleotide has three components, a nitrogenous base, a pentose sugar (ribose in case of RNA, and deoxyribose for DNA), a phosphate group.

Histones

Histones are rich in the basic amino acid residues lysines and arginines.

Nucleosome
