The Theatrical Professoriate Emily Roxworthy,2019-12-06 This book argues that today s professoriate has become increasingly theatrical largely as a result of neoliberal policies in higher education but also in response to an anti intellectual scrutiny that has become pervasive throughout the Western world The Theatrical Professoriate Contemporary Higher Education and Its Academic Dramas examines how the Western professoriate increasingly finds itself enacting command performances that utilize scripting characterization surrogation and spectacle the hallmarks of theatricality toward neoliberal ends Roxworthy explores how the theatrical nature of today s professoriate and the resultant glut of performances about academia on stage and screen have contributed to a highly ambivalent public fascination with academia She further documents the theatrical turn witnessed in American higher education as academic institutions use performance to intervene in the diversity issues and disciplinary disparities fueled by neoliberalism By analyzing academic dramas and their audience reception alongside theoretical approaches the author reveals how contemporary academia drives the professoriate to perform in what seem like increasingly artificial ways Ideal for practitioners and students of education ethnic and science studies The Theatrical Professoriate deftly intervenes in Performance Studies still unsettled debates over the differential impact of live versus mediated performances

The Unknown Cities Abeer Elshater,2016-04-22 This book investigates the many relatively unknown Egyptian cities which research has largely ignored It seeks to enhance the livability of urban areas and stop the processes that turn residents into anti utopians and their cities into dystopias It examines urbanization patterns in what are currently rural or informal settlements It draws on concepts from Western and Arabic thought concerning idealism and utopianism linking anti utopianism with ideas such as loss of hope and residents right to the city It also investigates the epistemology and methodology of urban design using the descriptive analytical approach to evaluate methods of self criticism to address the problems and enhance urban planning and design The literature regarding ten minute neighborhoods is reviewed along with a comparative content analysis of online articles and the resultant principles are tested through site observation It is found that happiness can be promoted by the principle of ten minute pedestrian access to essential services which can viably guide the reformation of urban planning This work recommends that urban planning should be based on the ten minute neighborhood thus improving the future prospects of utopianism in Egypts unknown cities Recently in the first decade of the twenty first century there was a definite human crisis that emerged in the Egyptian cities at the level of local urban communities which reflects on the whole city and the attached ones The problem seems to be in the transformation of some urban sites in the metropolitan and small cities to become dystopian places regarding the dynamic impact of the anti utopian people The concept of anti utopians stands as an intermediate step between livable cities and dystopian communities through the transformation that occurs due to the lack of strategic plans by the administrators and or the experts with a special mention to the plans for poor people Therefore from our perspective there is an urgent need to say that the majority of Egyptian cities should be declared as domains of humanitarian disasters which are caused by human hazards rather than the natural disasters e g earthquakes volcanoes floods whirlwinds and hurricanes Thus the first headmost city that will announce its failure in the structural and human scene will get the self respect and worlds estimate as well
