Novel Perspectives on German-Language Comics Studies Lynn M. Kutch,2016-06-15 Novel Perspectives on German Language Comics Studies History Pedagogy Theory gathers an international team of contributors from two continents whose innovative scholarship demonstrates a regard for comics and graphic novels as works of art in their own right The contributions serve as models for further research that will continue to define the relationship between comics and other traditional high art forms such as literature and the visual arts Novel Perspectives on German Language Comics Studies is the first English language anthology that focuses exclusively on the graphic texts of German speaking countries In its breadth this book functions as an important resource in a limited pool of critical works on German language comics and graphic novels The individual chapters differ significantly from one another in methodology subject matter and style Taken together however they present a cross section of comics and graphic novel scholarship being performed in North America and Europe today Moreover they help to secure a place for these works in a globalized culture of comics This volume s contributors have helped create a new critical language within which this rapidly expanding medium can be read and interpreted

The Acquisition of the German Case System by Foreign Language Learners Kristof Baten,2013-07-31 This is the first book on the acquisition of the German case system by foreign language learners It explores how learners in their interlanguage progress from the total absence to the presence of a case system This development is characterized by an evolution from marking the argument's position to marking the argument's actual function Theoretically couched within Processability Theory the book deals with the feature unification and the mapping processes involved in case marking and critically examines previous findings on German case acquisition Empirically the book consists of longitudinal data of 11 foreign language learners of German which was collected over a period of 2 years This book will be useful to anyone interested in the acquisition of German and in the acquisition of case systems in general

Revisiting Space Wendy Ellen Everett,Axel Goodbody,2005 How does film construct space and what is the relationship between space and time in film These and other questions are explored in this collection of wide ranging challenging essays that re evaluate and extend recent theoretical debate in relation to the regional and national cinemas of Europe
Ay-Inversion in Tagalog Patrick Nuhn,2021-10-11 Tagalog an Austronesian language is widely spoken and understood throughout the Philippine archipelago where it served as the basis for the national language Filipino The language is often cited for its many unusual linguistic properties Drawing on both spoken fieldwork data and written data from novels this study investigates several phenomena at Tagalog s interface of information structure and morphosyntax Aside from the default predicate initial word order the Tagalog language has several information structurally marked constructions that allow other constituents to appear in the sentence initial position One of these constructions is ay inversion Although it is often labeled a topic marking construction it is actually far more versatile This book aims to explore some of its many facets The investigation of ay inversion begins with a survey of its various uses that appear in the data including some that have to date received very little if any attention in the literature such as reversed ang inversion which combines two of the language s inversion constructions Selected observations are then modeled in Role and Reference Grammar and their implications for Tagalog syntax are explored Finally the role of ay inversion in anaphora resolution is investigated and selected processes are modeled in a frame based account
