Basic Structure of the Skin

1. The skin has three layers of complexity, each in order from the surface (epidermis) down (dermis) and hypodermis. Each skin layer has its own role in the body's defence and regulation of the internal environment.

The three layers of the skin are:

- 1. Epidermis
- 2. Dermis
- 3. Hypodermis

Epidermis: The outermost layer of the skin.

Dermis: The middle layer of the skin.

Hypodermis: The innermost layer of the skin.

Subcutaneous tissue: The layer of fat beneath the hypodermis.

2. The skin is the largest organ of the body, covering about 2 square metres in an adult. It is made up of two main parts: the epidermis and the dermis.

3. The skin is made up of two main parts: the epidermis and the dermis. The epidermis is the outer layer of the skin, and the dermis is the inner layer.

Epidermis: The outer layer of the skin, made up of several layers of cells. It is the most visible part of the skin.

Dermis: The middle layer of the skin, made up of connective tissue. It contains blood vessels, nerves, and hair follicles.
