Slave Of The Dungeon:

In the Dungeons of the Slave Lords Lawrence Schick,1981 My Dungeon Life Whatsawhizzer (author),1901 The Blackness of Black William David Hart,2020-10-16 This book explores the relations among blackness antiblackness and Black people within the discourse of the blackness of black This critical discourse developed during the last two decades as scholars explored what Saidiya Hartman describes as the afterlife of slavery Hartman s concept which argues for a troubling continuity between the status of enslaved and emancipated Black people is the pivot between discursive tributaries and trajectories Tributaries of the discourse of the blackness of black comprise five foundational concepts Frantz Fanon s phobogenic blackness Orlando Patterson s social death Cedric Robinson s racial capitalism and the black radical tradition and Hortense Spillers flesh The book traces three trajectories within the afterlife of slavery Frank Wilderson s Afropessimism Fred Moten s generative blackness and Calvin Warren s black nihilism This ensemble of concepts enable us to understand what is at state in how we understand the relations among blackness antiblackness and Black people Assault on the Aerie of the Slave Lords Allen Hammack,1981 African Hosts & Their Guests W. E. A. van Beek,Annette M. Schmidt,2012 Africa is a theme park for Western tourists to experience untouched wilderness untamed nature and truly authentic cultures where the hosts too are part of a discourse about the other and ourselves about wildness danger and roots Tourism is important for Africa international tourist arrivals to Africa continue to grow income from tourism is crucial to national economies and tourism investments are considered among the most profitable This edited volumedeals with the interaction of local communities with tourists coming into their areas and villages Based upon a common theoretical approach fourteen cases of African tourism are discussed which involve direct contact between hosts and guests The viewpoint throughout is from the side of the locals establishing how the processes of interaction shape each small scale destination Crucial in Africa is the fact that the large majority of tourism is game oriented and the interaction between locals and visitors is very much tainted by this fact Central is the notion of the tourist bubble the infrastructure that is generated locally and internationally for hosting tourists as it is this institutional interface that tends to impact on the local society and culture not the tourists themselves directly The examples come from all over Africa from the Sahara to the Eastern Cape and from Kenya to Ghana All contributions are based upon original fieldwork Walter van Beek is professor of anthropology at Tilburg University and Senior Researcher at the African Studies Centre Leiden Annette Schmidt is curator of the African department at the National Museum of Ethnology in Leiden and is an archaeologist with a long experience in cultural management projects The Media and Religious Authority Stewart M. Hoover,2016-09-01 As the availability and use of media platforms continue to expand the cultural visibility of religion is on the rise leading to questions about religious authority Where does it come from How is it established What might be changing it The contributors to The Media and Religious Authority examine the ways in which new centers of power and influence are emerging as religions seek to brand themselves in the media age Putting their in depth incisive studies of particular instances of media production and reception in Asia Africa Latin America and North America into conversation with one another the volume explores how evolving mediations of religion in various places affect the prospects aspirations and durability of religious authority across the globe An insightful combination of theoretical groundwork and individual case studies The Media and Religious Authority invites us to rethink the relationships among the media religion and culture The contributors are Karina Kosicki Bellotti Alexandra Boutros Pauline Hope Cheong Peter Horsfield Christine Hoff Kraemer Joonseong Lee Alf Linderman Bah yyah Maroon Montr Aza Missouri and Emily Zeamer with an afterword by Lynn Schofield Clark

Afro-Atlantic Flight Michelle D. Commander, 2017-03-02 In Afro Atlantic Flight Michelle D Commander traces how post civil rights Black American artists intellectuals and travelers envision literal and figurative flight back to Africa as a means by which to heal the dispossession caused by the slave trade Through ethnographic historical literary and filmic analyses Commander shows the ways that cultural producers such as Octavia Butler Thomas Allen Harris and Saidiya Hartman engage with speculative thought about slavery the spiritual realm and Africa thereby structuring the imaginary that propels future return flights She goes on to examine Black Americans cultural heritage tourism in and migration to Ghana Bahia Brazil and various sites of slavery in the US South to interrogate the ways that a cadre of actors produces Africa and contests master narratives Compellingly these material flights do not always satisfy Black Americans individualistic desires for homecoming and liberation leading Commander to focus on the revolutionary possibilities inherent in psychic speculative returns and to argue for the development of a Pan Africanist stance that works to more effectively address the contemporary resonances of slavery that exist across the Afro Atlantic

The Zorg Siddharth Kara, 2025-10-14 From Pulitzer finalist and New York Times bestselling author of Cobalt Red A notorious slave ship incident that led to the abolition of slavery in the UK and sparked the US abolitionist movement In late October 1780 a slave ship set sail from the Netherlands bound for Africa s Windward and Gold Coasts where it would take on its human cargo The Zorg a Dutch word meaning care was one of thousands of such ships but the harrowing events that ensued on its doomed journey were unique After reaching Africa the Zorg was captured by a privateer and came under British command With a new captain and crew the ship was crammed with 442 slaves and departed in 1781 for Jamaica But a series of unpredictable weather events and mistakes in navigation left the ship drastically off course and running out of water So a proposition was put forth Save the crew and the most valuable of the slaves by throwing dozens of people starting with women and children overboard What followed was a fascinating legal drama in England s highest court that turned the brutal calculus of slavery into front page news The case of the Zorg catapulted the nascent anti slavery movement from a minor evangelical cause to one of the most consequential moral campaigns in history sparking the abolitionist movement in both England and the young United States Siddharth Kara utilizes primary source research gripping storytelling and painstaking investigation to uncover the Zong's journey the lives and fates of the slaves on board and the mysterious identity of the abolitionist who finally revealed the truth of what happened on the ship

God and Blackness Andrea C. Abrams, 2014 Blackness as a concept is extremely fluid it can refer to cultural and ethnic identity socio political status an aesthetic and embodied way of being a social and political consciousness or a diasporic kinship It is used as a description of skin color ranging from the palest cream to the richest chocolate as a marker of enslavement marginalization criminality filth or evil or as a symbol of pride beauty elegance strength and depth Despite the fact that it is elusive and difficult to define blackness serves as one of the most potent and unifying domains of identity God and Blackness offers an ethnographic study of blackness as it is understood within a specific community that of the First Afrikan Church a middle class Afrocentric congregation in Atlanta Georgia Drawing on nearly two years of participant observation and in depth interviews Andrea C Abrams examines how this community has employed Afrocentrism and Black theology as a means of negotiating the unreconciled natures of thoughts and ideals that are part of being both black and American Specifically Abrams examines the ways in which First Afrikan's construction of community is influenced by shared understandings of blackness and probes the means through which individuals negotiate the tensions created by competing constructions of their black identity Although Afrocentrism operates as the focal point of this discussion the book examines questions of political identity religious expression and gender dynamics through the lens of a unique black church
