Scripting the Moves Joanne W. Golann, 2025-03-18 An inside look at a no excuses charter school that reveals this educational model's strengths and weaknesses and how its approach shapes students' Silent single file lines Detention for putting a head on a desk Rules for how to dress how to applaud how to complete homework Walk into some of the most acclaimed urban schools today and you will find similar recipes of behavior designed to support student achievement But what do these scripts accomplish Immersing readers inside a no excuses charter school Scripting the Moves offers a telling window into an expanding model of urban education reform Through interviews with students teachers administrators and parents and analysis of documents and data Joanne Golann reveals that such schools actually dictate too rigid a level of social control for both teachers and their predominantly low income Black and Latino students Despite good intentions scripts constrain the development of important interactional skills and reproduce some of the very inequities they mean to disrupt Golann presents a fascinating sometimes painful account of how no excuses schools use scripts to regulate students and teachers She shows why scripts were adopted what purposes they serve and where they fall short What emerges is a complicated story of the benefits of scripts but also their limitations in cultivating the tools students need to navigate college and other complex social institutions tools such as flexibility initiative and ease with adults Contrasting scripts with tools Golann raises essential questions about what constitutes cultural capital and how this capital might be effectively taught Illuminating and accessible Scripting the Moves delves into the troubling realities behind current education reform and reenvisions what it takes to prepare students for long term success

This Much I Know About Love Over Fear ... John Tomsett, 2015-06-15 This Much I Know about Love Over Fear is a compelling account of leading a values driven school where people matter above all else Weaving autobiography with an account of his experience of headship John Tomsett explains how in an increasingly pressurised education system he creates the conditions in which staff and students can thrive Too many of our state schools have become scared soulless places John Tomsett draws on his extensive experience and knowledge and calls for all those involved in education to find the courage to develop a leadership wisdom which emphasises love over fear Creating a truly great school takes patience Ultimately truly great schools don't suddenly exist You grow great teachers first who in turn grow a truly great school There is a huge fork in the road for head teachers one route leads to executive headship across a number of schools and the other takes head teachers back into the classroom to be the head teacher John strongly believes that if the head teacher is not teaching or engaged in helping others to improve their teaching in their school then they are missing the point The only thing head teachers need obsess themselves with is improving the quality of teaching both their colleagues and their own This Much I Know about Love Over Fear is an authentic personal narrative of teaching leadership and discovering what really matters. It gets to the heart of what is valuable in education and offers advice for those working in schools.

Mentoring History Teachers in the Secondary School Victoria Crooks, Laura London, Terry Haydn, 2023-12-07

Mentoring History Teachers in the Secondary School supports mentors to develop the knowledge, skills and understanding essential to the successful mentoring of beginning history teachers who are undertaking their initial teacher training or being inducted into the profession as early career teachers. The authors critically explore models of mentoring and place subject specificity at the heart of every chapter, offering practical mentoring strategies rooted in the best evidence and research from the history teaching community. This book is a vital source of encouragement and inspiration for all those involved in developing the next generation of history teachers, providing accessible summaries of history-specific thinking on a range of topics alongside mentoring support. Key topics include:

- Understanding what being a subject-specific mentor of beginning history teachers involves.
- Establishing a dialogic mentor-mentee relationship.
- Supporting beginning teachers to develop the substantive and disciplinary knowledge they need to become excellent history teachers.
- Guiding beginning history teachers through the lesson planning process.
- Conducting subject-specific lesson observations and pre and post lesson discussions.
- Supporting beginning history teachers to consider the purpose of history education and how they can navigate this in relation to values education, the use of ICT and the teaching of controversial and sensitive issues.

Mentoring History Teachers in the Secondary School offers an accessible and practical guide to mentoring beginning history teachers with ready-to-use strategies to support and inspire both mentors and beginning teachers alike.

Visible Learning: The Sequel John Hattie, 2023-03-20

When the original Visible Learning was published in 2008, it instantly became a publishing sensation. Interest in the book was unparalleled; it sold out in days and was described by the TES as 'revealing teaching's Holy Grail'. Now John Hattie returns to this ground-breaking work. The research underlying this book is now informed by more than 2,100 meta-analyses, more than double that of the original, drawn from more than 130,000 studies and has involved more than 400 million students from all around the world. But this is more than just a new edition. This book is a sequel that highlights the major story, taking in the big picture to reflect on the implementation in schools of Visible Learning, how it has been understood and at times misunderstood, and what future directions research should take.

Visible Learning: The Sequel reiterates the author's desire to move beyond claiming what works to what works best by asking crucial questions such as:

- Why is the current grammar of schooling so embedded in so many classrooms, and can we improve it?
- Why is the learning curve for teachers after the first few years so flat?
- How can we develop teacher mind frames to focus more on learning and listening?
- How can we incorporate research evidence as part of the discussions within schools?

Areas covered include:

- The evidence base and reactions to Visible Learning.
- The Visible Learning model.
- The intentional alignment of learning and teaching strategies.
- The influence of home, students, teachers, classrooms, schools, learning and curriculum on achievement.
- The impact of technology.
- Building upon the success of the original this highly anticipated sequel expands Hattie's model of teaching and learning based on evidence of impact and is essential reading for anyone involved in the field of education either as a researcher teacher student school leader teacher trainer or policy maker
