Instruction in the Grades, Values and Methods Oscar Gerson, 2018-03-22

Excerpt from Instruction in the Grades Values and Methods A Textbook for Normal Students and Young Teachers I shall not attempt to acknowledge my indebted ness to other writers on education In fact I could not if I would The ideas herein expressed are now at least so absolutely my own that even though I may be only their foster father I cannot distinguish them from my own Offspring This much I can safely say that no view set forth in this book is written simply because it conforms to somebody s theory Neither has newness as such been a part of my aim I have merely attempted to collect in an orderly fashion such parts of my educational experience and re ection as I thought would be helpful to teachers and normal school students I trust that if the reviewer is moved to exclaim with Lessing This book con tains much that is good and much that is new he will not supplement it with the caustic comment that the good is not new and the new is not good About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Teaching the Common Branches Werrett Wallace Charters, 2018-05-02 Excerpt from Teaching the Common Branches A Textbook for Teachers of Rural and Graded Schools This book represents an attempt to Write a simple text on the theory of teaching for students Of teaching and for inexperienced teachers particularly in the rural schools Most Of the Would be teachers who take an elementary course in methods of teaching are destined to begin in country schools But most of the methods found in books on teaching have been Worked out for graded schools Where there is more time and Where there are on the whole better teachers The author has faced this problem by Writing the present text primarily for rural teachers The most practical assistance to him in the task has been several years experience of his own as a country school teacher several years more spent in training country teachers in a County Model School and very recently some experience in teaching pedagogy to a group Of young students in the University_ High School This equipment has been supplemented by an examination of all the books used in the high school normal training classes Of those states that have them and by submitting the manuscript to certain experts Who know country schools and the capacities of their teachers About the Publisher Forgotten
