explores a range of approaches to teaching and learning and provides a conceptual and practical framework for understanding the diverse nature of art and design in the secondary school curriculum. Written by experts in the field, it aims to inform and inspire, challenge orthodoxies and encourage a freshness of vision. It provides support and guidance for learning and teaching in art and design, suggesting strategies to motivate and engage pupils in making, discussing and evaluating visual and material culture. This fourth edition has been comprehensively updated and restructured in light of the latest theory, research and policy in the field and includes new chapters exploring diversity, identity and inclusion, attitudes to making and teaching as an artistic practice. Essential topics include: Ways of learning in art and design; Teaching as an artistic practice; Planning for teaching and learning; Diversity and inclusion; Sustainable design; Assessment and examinations; Critical studies; Professional development in the gallery. Supporting each chapter are suggestions for further reading and tasks designed to encourage you to reflect critically on your practice. Learning to Teach Art and Design in the Secondary School addresses issues for all student teachers and mentors on initial teacher education courses in Art and Design. It is also of relevance and value to teachers in schools with designated responsibility for supervision.

Caribbean Women's Migration
Dorrel L. Green-Briggs, 2022-10-06
Caribbean Women's Migration: Windrush Era Housing Experiences and Aspirations is a qualitative case study analysis of eight London-based women. The main purpose of the research was to document the housing histories of each subject over half a century since their arrival and subsequent settlement in the United Kingdom. The study highlights several themes, including the exploration of Caribbean women's migration literature during the Windrush period (1948-1970), racial discrimination as it relates to Caribbean housing access, continued patterns of black and ethnic minority concentration and segregation in inner-city metropolitan areas. Caribbean Windrush women and men have strived to elevate their living standards and have shown resourcefulness in overcoming barriers and achieving their aspirations in acquiring property. They are now represented within the full spectrum of housing tenure. By documenting women's housing case studies, this study gives a voice to Caribbean women who've been marginalized because they were women and dark-skinned. Moreover, it outlines how future generations of people, black, white, and people of all nationalities and cultural affiliations can work toward change in the United Kingdom.

Knowledge in English
Victoria Elliott, 2020-12-28
Focusing on a key area of debate within the world of secondary English, the knowledge-based curriculum, this book explores in detail the question of knowledge in the teaching of English in secondary schools, drawing on specific concrete cases and a range of academic theories. Knowledge in English also investigates how to teach both facts and skills through the required texts to produce a balanced educational experience. Elliott brings together classic texts with contemporary knowledge and viewpoints to critically examine teaching in the English literature classroom and situates them within the broader cultural and political context. The book includes discussions on race and gender in texts, Shakespeare and his influence, facts and emotions in poetry, and reading experiences. Knowledge in English is a foundational and accessible guide for researchers, practitioners, teacher educators and teachers around the world It is a valuable resource for those involved in the English curriculum to keep the subject relevant and useful to students in the contemporary classroom Handbook for Education
