The Existing Christ An Existential Christology:

The Existing Christ Aldo Di Giovanni, 2014-10-09 It is not that God created or caused us rather that God indwelling through Christ is creating or causing us What could be more important to a Christian than scripture The reality and accessibility of the existing Christ is more important The former merely tells of the latter as best it can Consider that you and a companion are walking in a hilly wood on a sunny fall day with leaves in resplendent colours Your companion writes down notes of what you experience That evening you use your companion's notes as a guide for understanding and knowing about your personal experience of your personal walk For many reasons and on many levels preferring word representations of reality as experienced by others to one's immediate and direct experience is to prefer imaginary abstractions to life itself That is especially true when we are considering our personal spiritual existence Immediate and direct experience is what matters The word notes can help but it is through personal experience that that God touches us personally What can be more important to a Christian than his denominational church community The reality and accessibility of Christ in any person spirited by Christ into spiritual community of and from Christ is more important The denominational church is raised through people those spirited by Christ are raised directly by Christ Denominations and temporal churches commune earthly temporal body to earthly temporal body Being the temporal things they are there are no denominations in heaven nor are there denominations in heaven on earth Communities of people spirited by Christ commune primarily and directly with the spirit of Christ within and then share their personal experience in community body to body with all the limitations of bodies of flesh Existential Christology as approached in this book provides a practical framework for Christianity in the 21st century withstanding the scrutiny of critical reflection and thought More importantly existential Christology establishes the ground on which Christian practice frees people from bondage and captivity The coming century promises that the grounding and framing of Christian living will move and shift The challenges will cause faith to stumble if not fall In the reality of Christ there is a Covenant a Christ Covenant that will ground and frame or form spiritual living This book is about the reality Christ and how that presently existing reality forms our spiritual person Drawing on Quaker Wesleyan and Reformist legacies of Light and Experimental Religion this book delves into the pursuit and securing of salvation and holiness It draws on the book of John and its Gospel message regarding the existing Christ presenting thought provoking responses to some salient themes from the Gospel of John The latter part of the book provides accessible user friendly tools for discovering learning about knowing and taking possession of Christ specific experiences of spiritual reality Includes Christ specific Lifeskills Experiences Experiments Coaching Counselling

The Existing Christ Aldo Di Giovanni, 2013-10-09 What could be more important to a Christian than scripture The reality and accessibility of the existing Christ is more important The former merely tells of the latter as best it can Consider that you and a companion are walking in a hilly wood on a sunny fall day with leaves in resplendent colours Your companion writes down notes of what you experience That evening you use your companion's notes as a guide for understanding and knowing about your personal experience of your personal walk For many reasons and on many levels preferring word representations of reality as experienced by others to one's immediate and direct experience is to prefer abstract words to life itself That is especially true when we are considering our personal spiritual journey Your immediate and direct experience is what matters The word notes can help but it is through personal experience that that God touches us personally Engaging the existing Christ changes our experience of the Gospel The encounter changes our reading of scripture This book is about the reality Christ and what that presently existing reality means to us and our lives This book is about our relationship to the existing Christ and by extension to God It draws on the book of John and its Gospel message regarding the existing Christ This book also presents a thought provoking response to some salient themes from the Gospel of John Drawing on Quaker Wesleyan and Reformist legacies of Light and Experimental Religion it delves into the pursuit and securing of salvation and holiness The writing is not cogent clear or refined and while not academic the content of this book is weighty and important The coming century promises that the grounding and framing of Christian living will move and shift and will cause faith to stumble if not fall In the reality of Christ there is a Covenant a Christ Covenant that will ground and frame our created spiritual living The latter part of the book provides accessible user friendly tools for discovering learning about knowing and by choice taking possession of Christ specific experiences of a spiritual reality that grounds and manifests faith Includes Christ specific Lifeskills Experiences Experiments Coaching Counselling Aldo Di Giovanni The Enduring Covenant Padraic O'Hare,1997-01-01 The idea for this book arose out of the author's fifteen years of sustained engagement in Jewish Christian relations His purpose here is to speak about the practice of religious education in the church in which anti Judaism is eliminated O Hare focuses on the holiness of the religious community which he notes can develop along triumphal absolute and exclusive lines He suggests instead that every time we unearth a defensive and xenophobic practice or pattern of speech in our religion and set it aside we are doing something that adds to the health of our religious community to its capacity to assist people to become holy Chapter 1 surveys what philosopher Jules Isaac calls the history of the teaching of contempt chapter 2 deals with genuine religious pluralism and dialogue chapter 3 is a short Christology devoid of triumphalism and exclusivism chapter 4 focuses on religious education and its purpose to form holy people chapter 5 is an appreciation of the genius of Judaism its world view and life chapter 6 focuses on practice including elements of a paradigm shift in religious education principles for such practice and select examples of programs of religious education for interreligious reverence especially between Jews and Christians Padraic O Hare teaches in the Religious Studies Department of Merrimack College North Andover MA and is the author of The Way of Faithfulness Contemplation and Formation in the Church also published by Trinity Press The Abased Christ Thomas J. Millay,2022-10-03 The Abased Christ is the first monograph to be devoted exclusively to S ren Kierkegaard's Christological masterpiece Practice in Christianity Alongside an argument for a new translation of the work's title it offers detailed textual commentary on a series of themes in Practice in Christianity such as the person of Christ contemporaneity imitation and Kierkegaard's philosophy of history Anti Climacus the pseudonymous author of Practice in Christianity presents to his readers a uniquely challenging understanding of who Christ is and what it means to follow him The Christ of Anti Climacus is not the glorious Christ who abides with the Father in heaven but the abased Christ who is poor marginal offensive and persecuted Throughout Practice in Christianity we are called not only to perceive the abased Christ but to follow after him The Abased Christ aims to enrich historical theologians appreciation of Kierkegaard's Christology However it concludes by grappling with questions of power agency and sacrifice which have been at the forefront of contemporary theology in the 20th and 21st centuries thereby suggesting how we might make sense of Kierkegaard's Christology today

Ecology in Jurgen Moltmann's Theology Celia E. Deane-Drummond, 2016-09-01 This book offers a critical and constructive analysis of the contribution of Jurgen Moltmann to the field of ecotheology Moltmann is one of the foremost and influential contemporary theologians of our time but his specific contribution to ecotheology has received relatively scant attention in the secondary literature The author deals sensitively with the relevant scientific aspects necessary in order to develop an adequate theology of the natural world She also offers a careful and constructive analysis of the specific systematic theologies of creation humanity eschatology and Trinity that are woven into Moltmann's rich interpretation of the relationship between God and creation

Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I. Ezigbo, 2010-02-08 Who do you say that I am Mark 8:29 is the question of Christology By asking this question Jesus invites his followers to interpret him from within their own contexts history experience and social location Therefore all responses to Jesus's invitation are contextual But for too long many theologians particularly in the West have continued to see Christology as a universal endeavor that is devoid of any contextual influences This understanding of Christology undermines Jesus's expectations from us to imagine and appropriate him from within our own contexts In Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I Ezigbo presents a constructive exposition of the unique ways that many African theologians and lay Christians from various church denominations have interpreted and appropriated Jesus Christ in their own contexts He also articulates the constructive contributions that these African Christologies can make to the development of Christological discourse in non-African Christian communities

Encountering Christ in the Suffering Humanity (Mt 25:31-46) Cynthia Pinto, 2011 The Cambridge Companion to Karl Rahner Declan Marmion, Mary E. Hines, 2005-06-16 Karl Rahner 1904-84 was one of the most significant theological voices of the twentieth century. For many, his theology has come to symbolise the Catholic Church's entry into modernity. Part of his enduring appeal lies in his ability to reflect on a whole variety of issues in theology and spirituality and concentrate this plurality into a few basic convictions. This Cambridge Companion provides an accessible introduction to the main themes of Rahner's work. Written by an international array of experts, it will be of interest to both students and scholars alike. Each chapter serves as a guide to its topic and recommends further reading for additional study. The contributors also assess Rahner's significance for contemporary theology by bringing his thought into dialogue with many current concerns, including religious pluralism, spirituality, postmodernism, ecumenism, ethics, and developments in political and feminist theologies.

The Spirit of Polyphony Joanna Tarassenko, 2024-01-25 This book re-examines how Bonhoeffer employs musical patterns of thought and language to a theological end. It outlines how the significance of Bonhoeffer's musical theology has not been sufficiently recognised and sets the stage for a rigorous re-examination. It becomes clear that through the lens of his musical metaphor of polyphony, Bonhoeffer demonstrates how his account of Christian formation contains a latent pneumatology. Tarassenko demonstrates that incorporation of this pneumatology is key in deepening one's understanding of Bonhoeffer. It allows the relationship between Christology and Christian formation in Bonhoeffer's thought to become fully realised. The appeal to polyphony articulates this pneumatology as an indirect but nevertheless exceedingly successful means of contouring an account of the Spirit's work.

Demythologizing Revelation Chester O'Gorman, 2019-05-24 What is revelation? Is it still relevant in the twenty-first century? In the twentieth century, radical theologian Rudolf Bultmann sought an answer by demythologizing scripture and Christian tradition. Most philosophers and theologians agree that he failed adequately to demythologize revelation through his notion of the kerygma. In Demythologizing Revelation: A Critical Continuation of Rudolf Bultmann's Project, Chester O'Gorman corrects this shortcoming to continue Bultmann's project: demythologizing Jesus Christ as revelation through the philosophy of Slavoj Žižek. Drawing support from other notable thinkers, including Judith Butler, Thomas Altizer, Albert Camus, René Girard, and Martin Luther, O'Gorman proffers a non-supernatural account and theory of revelation This theory enables both Christians and atheists to identify sites of revelation today so that all might better understand and participate in its ongoing liberation of humanity from sin and oppression for the sake of all creation

Divine Complexity Paul R. Hinlicky, 2010-11-01 Divine Complexity intentionally combines Reformation theology patristic studies and modern biblical criticism in order to argue for a social view of the Trinity the view of the Father Son and Holy Spirit as three distinct persons united in love as the grounds of the Christian hope in the coming of the Beloved Community This book is written with the student of early Christianity and the development of doctrine in mind

Studies in Christian Existentialism John Macquarrie, 1965-01-01

Jesus, Symbol of God Roger Haight, 1999 Already hailed as a landmark in contemporary Catholic theology Jesus Symbol of God surveys scriptural data the key moments in the development of doctrine and the distinctive horizons of our contemporary world to develop a comprehensive and systematic christology for our time The task of christology is to explain what it means to say that Jesus is the bearer and revealer of God in the Christian community the decisive mediation of God s salvation or in other words the symbol of God

Christian Dogmatics Carl E. Braaten, Robert W. Jenson, 2011-07 Volume 1 discusses dogmatics the Trinity the identity of God creation sin and Christology

A Theology of Divine Vulnerability Peter Hooton, 2024-05-20 A Theology of Divine Vulnerability The Silence that Gives Light understands confidence in the idea of God to rest largely on three claims The first is that God is responsible in some quite fundamental way for the existence of the universe for the fact that there is anything at all The second is that God's own existence and essential goodness are not vitiated by the presence of evil in the world And the third is that God knows we are here and shares fully somehow in the joys and pains of transient life Peter Hooton considers these claims on the whole sympathetically He prefers to traditional Christian views of God's omnipotence a more nuanced understanding of God's power and draws on a rich plurality of voices to describe God as much more loving than wrathful as persuasive rather than coercive as more passible than impassible and the Christian's relationship with God as essentially a compassionate participation in the reality signified by the crucified and risen Christ

The Theology of the First Christians Walter Schmithals, 1997-01-01 In The Theology of the First Christians Walter Schmithals offers a comprehensive history of the development of religious thought from the preaching of Jesus to the formation of the New Testament canon This well researched volume will be of great interest to New Testament scholars and students

Christian Theology Robert A. Evans, Thomas D. Parker, 2001-12-21 A major teaching breakthrough Christian Theology A Case Method Approach bridges the gap between the theological reflection and human experience and encourages fruitful dialogue between divergent interpretations Organized around central motifs in the Apostles Creed nine actual cases on contemporary themes have been prepared by experienced case writers These cases represent a variety of issues which call for a response hunger and faith language and commitment doubt and death The goal of each is to relate Christian theology to a real life situation But how reach this goal This is the core question and it provides the still point around which the discussions revolve A total of thirty four theological briefs by representatives of major traditions and perspectives reflect on the cases involved and the issues to be resolved
