The Nervous System

The nervous system is an extremely complex, highly organized system that coordinates and integrates all the activities of the body. The brain, spinal cord, and peripheral nerves are the main components of the nervous system. The brain is the central control center, and the spinal cord and peripheral nerves are the communication lines. The nervous system is divided into the central nervous system (CNS) and the peripheral nervous system (PNS).

Central Nervous System

The central nervous system (CNS) is made up of the brain and spinal cord. The brain is the command center of the body, and is located within the protective skull. Layers of meningeal membranes and cerebrospinal fluid surround the CNS. The spinal cord consists of 31 segments, through which the CNS communicates with the rest of the body.

Peripheral Nervous System

There are six pairs of cranial nerves that carry messages from the brain to the rest of the body, and they make up the peripheral nervous system (PNS). The PNS is made up of sensory neurons that are capable of receiving stimuli, and motor neurons that are capable of responding to stimuli. The PNS also includes sensory receptors, such as the eyes, ears, nose, tongue, and skin, and motor effectors, such as muscles and glands.

The PNS is divided into the somatic and autonomic nervous systems. The somatic nervous system is responsible for voluntary movements and conscious thought. The autonomic nervous system is responsible for involuntary movements and unconscious functions. The autonomic nervous system is further divided into the sympathetic and parasympathetic systems. The sympathetic system is responsible for the fight or flight response, and the parasympathetic system is responsible for the rest and digest response.

The Brain

The brain is the command center of the nervous system. It is located in the skull and is made up of billions of neurons. The brain is divided into the cerebrum, cerebellum, and brainstem. The cerebrum is the largest part of the brain and is responsible for conscious thought and voluntary movements. The cerebellum is located at the back of the brain and is responsible for coordination and balance. The brainstem is located at the base of the brain and is responsible for basic life functions, such as breathing and heart rate.
